Advantages and disadvantages of washing and clothes dryers

About the cost

In the market, laundry dryers have a common price ranging from 10 to 100 million VND; the price of clothes dryers will be usually cheaper, about 5 to 30 million VND. However, if you buy a clothes dryer, you will have to buy a separate washing machine (the popular washing machine price is from 3 to 100 million VND).

With the money to buy a washing machine, you can absolutely buy a washing machine and a cheap clothes dryer, but it may be limited in terms of features and durability. And to buy a washing machine and a separate clothes dryer, good quality, diverse features, you will surely have to spend a lot of money than the price of a washing machine.

About the installation area

The size of a tumble dryer and tumble dryer is equivalent to a front load washer. If you choose a washer dryer, you will just need your space for it. On the other hand, if you buy a clothes dryer, the installation area will double because you need to have space for both the dryer and washing machine.

About the ability to dry, wash

Laundry dryer: The use of a laundry dryer is quite convenient. You just need to put the clothes into the machine, choose the appropriate mode is finished. However, due to having to handle two functions at the same time, both drying and washing, the drying and washing effect of the washing machine will be worse than that of the machine with only drying function and machine with only washing function.

Clothes dryer: Using this device will require more work. First, you have to bring clothes to the washing machine, wait until the laundry is finished, then take out and put in the dryer. Because only the drying function, the drying effect of clothes dryer will be higher. In addition, they will also be equipped with more drying modes than washing machines.
