

Skype will stop supporting users of the old version on the computer

On its blog, Skype said it has to ensure compatibility and features that work best on devices, the company will stop supporting the older version 6.13 or lower for Windows and 6.14 or later devices. with a Mac.

On its blog, Skype said it has to ensure compatibility and features that work best on devices, the company will stop supporting the older version 6.13 or lower for Windows and 6.14 or later devices. with a Mac.

The specific time was not given, but they said the suspension of support will be implemented in the next few months, the mobile version is not affected. The latest version of Skype has a number of features that do not appear on older versions, such as the ability to send offline messages, view the full conversation history on various devices, synchronize the status. read messages on devices, .

You finished reading the article "Skype will stop supporting users of the old version on the computer" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.