1. Frequently use voice chat and ping to signal to teammates

The ping mechanism in Lien Lien Mobile has just been improved, gamers can notify teammates that there are enemies hiding in the dust, how many seconds it takes for the cooldown, how many more seconds to move to . .

If you know how to communicate well, you can let your teammates know the risks of avoiding, coordinating well and avoiding unexpected ganks.

2. Select generals and ban champions

If you are at Platinum rank or below, choosing a champion is quite simple because there is no ban on choosing a champion quite stressful. Depending on the strategy, you can choose a champion so that there are 5 positions such as: Dragon Road, Mid Street, Caesar Road, Jungle and Support position.

You should choose a flexible general that can be played in many different positions. If it is best, choose the most suitable and most convenient to play.

As for banning champions, ban the generals are very strong. Depending on the selection strategy and ban depending on your turn before or after. It is best to choose the last jungle position to avoid enemies choosing easy-to-counter champions. For example, if you choose mobile champions like Murad, Batman or Nakrot, you will be countered by hard crowd control champions like Arum, Omarr or Aleister .

3. Know the quality of your team and the enemy team

Currently Lien Lien Mobile has up to 90 different generals with diverse properties and ways of playing. The generals can be strong according to the game phase, there are champions that are strong in the middle of the game, some champions are only strong at the beginning of the game and there are also generals that only promote strength at the end of the game. very weak .

You need to know the advantages to promote the best. If your champion is weak at the beginning of the game and can't fight, you should hug the tower, until you have enough items, then rush to fight.

4. Turn the road

The continuous reversal will create many surprises for the opponent and this is very necessary. You can support teammates and have unexpected ganks to help your teammates and create advantages for the team.

However, before roaming, you must clear your lane troops to avoid losing towers. And especially avoid moving solo when in the late game, especially weak health champions like AD or MID.

5. Push the high soldier

Make sure that all 3 lines are pushed as high as possible before the team prepares to fight or fight the Tyrant Dragon and the Evil God Caesar. Thus, even if the team has lost, the enemy team will not be able to push your tower quickly.
