

Some tips to help you advance to the Top 4 easily in the Arena of Truth

These tips help you advance to the TOP 4 Arena of Truth is not too difficult and can be applied to every meta in DTCL versions.

You can learn many tips to play Arena of Truth after participating in the game for a while. Maybe after the DTCL updates, the meta game will change due to buffs, nerfs, and some new updates on items or champions in the game that make gamers have to change a lot of tactics to suit the current version.

But no matter what meta is used, gamers can still apply the playing experience, simple playing tips that can help gamers climb the top in no way. Even newbies will be less surprised to follow the tips played in this article.

1. Instructions to play Pantheon Arena of Truth
2. Want to climb quickly to the arena of Truth, skip these habits right away
3. Instructions to play the Technology team - Search for the Arena of Truth

Pay attention to equip the main generals in the arena of Truth Arena

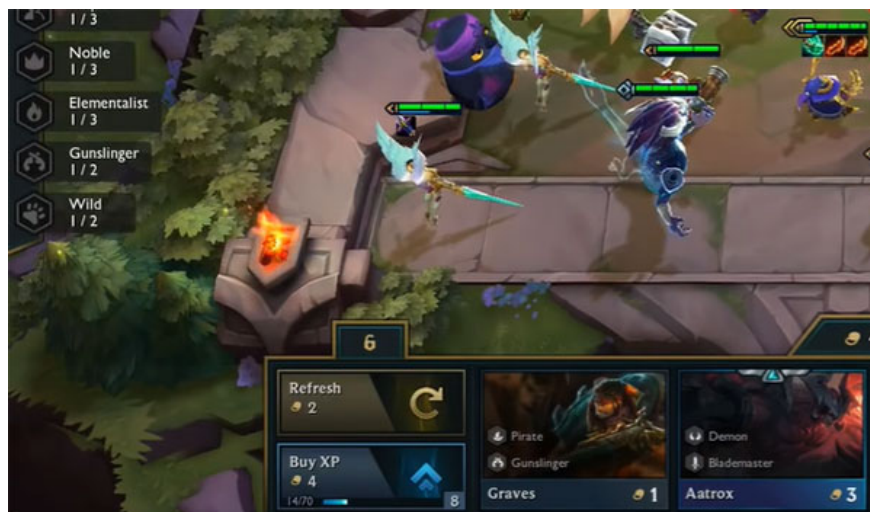

Many gamers often just wait to collect the generals needed for the squad when to "repertoire" rotate the general or go to the market. This is quite effective when you want to build a complete squad or want to reduce the strength of the enemy squad.

However, this is not the only way to be able to climb to the top 4, in addition to having to pay attention to the generals, you also need to pay attention to equipment for the main generals in the DTCL. Because the power from equipment for champions will help your squad to see stronger.

The rotation of generals to build a complete team depends on the dignity of the player. But you can also rely on the equipment you have to build a strong squad to climb easily.

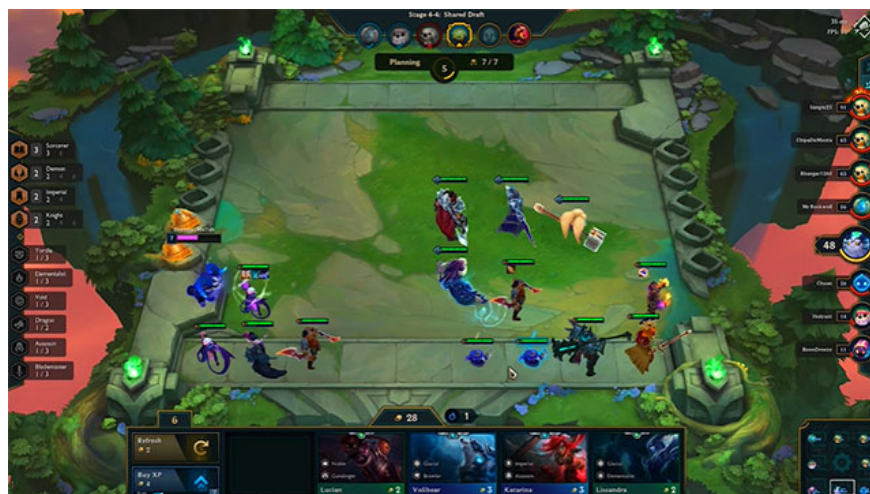

Level up as fast as you can

Why level up as fast as you can when you're accumulating money? In fact, the current meta of the Arena of Truth 9.17 encourages gamers to spend more than save money, you upgrade, you will have more slots and increase more personnel for your squad and raise so that the generals force.

But you also need to see if your squad has enough power to fight other players or not, then level up your character to soon get the 5 gold generals and complete your squad.

Build a squad based on what you get

The random mechanism contributes a lot to the player's victory. So sometimes you won't get the champions you set for your squad during the turn.

At this point, what you need to do is to decide to change the squad with the things that you receive to regain your advantage. Ideally, before starting the match you should have in mind a few different squads and tactics to be able to change accordingly but also confront other teams in the game.

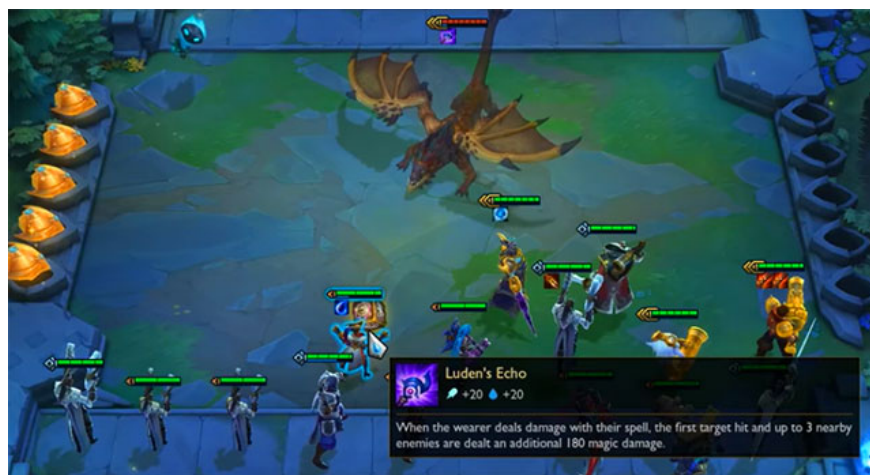

Know how to position your team to the best DTCL

Another factor that contributes greatly to your team's victory is knowing how to place your squad in the right positions. If placed in the right position, the generals can promote their full strength.

Another important thing is that you need to look in front of the enemy team to see if there are generals "kidnapping" the main carries in your squad like Blitzcrank or Kassadin or General Hextech and Assassin and promptly find a way counter.

Wearing equipment for champions will definitely sell

Many gamers have a habit of stockpiling and waiting until they have completed a complete formation with 2 - 3 star generals to start throwing items for the general. This strategy contributed a lot to your early departure.

Instead of doing that, you can throw equipment for temporary champions, as long as those champions have to match the quality of the equipment and you can still withstand the final round with stable blood.

Then, until you find a champion, sell the temporary champion who is holding those items and return it to the new champion. So do not be afraid to equip items for the temporary generals, you can sell them to retrieve items.

Dump all resources to build up to 3 stars for a champion

Raising champions to 2 or 3 stars is probably everyone wants, especially with the main carry generals like Draven to be able to carry the team. But if you put all the pieces to a champion and let the remaining champions "squint" 1 star then obviously not okay. Especially when you are doing this again in the mid game.

Instead of pooling all resources to raise a champion to 3 stars, you should steadily raise for the necessary generals if you already have a stable tribe combo. That way is much more effective than just staring at a champion.

Prioritize optimization for wide area damage

The champions that can carry out massive damage will be the ones that have a great influence on the fighting in the current meta. You should arrange your squad so that champions with large area damage can unleash all your strength on all the enemy team champions.

If you own more damage generals, the ability to enter your top 4 will be easier. Another thing is that if there are many damage generals in wide area, spread them evenly throughout the squad, so that will limit the ability to receive damage.

Pay attention to the enemy formation in the middle and at the end of the match

At the beginning of the match was the time when most players had only a temporary formation, so the "peeking" now is not so important. But in the middle of the game is different, at this time most players have defined the formation and tactics so you have to see what the enemy team has. Determine the next champion the enemy squad needs to break in the Market.

Towards the end of the match, this was the time when all the roster was working properly. You will know who you have to face next. Having a look at the enemy team will give you more information and you can then arrange your squad to counter your team, or at least not take too much damage. out.

Whatever the trick, in any situation, you need to be calm and quickly make the most accurate decisions. And even if you are unlucky, but have a sharp head to handle all the situations that arise, you still have a percentage of winning.

You finished reading the article "Some tips to help you advance to the Top 4 easily in the Arena of Truth" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.