

Stardust's effective way in Pokemon GO

Pokemon Go Stardust is used to evolve Pokemom with Candy. Therefore, if there is more Stardust, it will make the evolution easier.

When you have quite a lot of Pokemon, the coach will calculate the evolution to upgrade your Pokemon. Along with Candy, Starduts is considered an important factor if players want to upgrade their Pokemon.

Everyone knows that Stardust search is quite simple. But the hard point is how to earn a lot of Stardust because when we upgrade Pokemon it will cost a lot of Stardust. If your Pokemon has a higher CP, it means more Stardust. So how can I get a lot of Stardust? In this article, Network Administrator will help you with more good tips to get yourself more Stardust.

1. Looking for Stardust in Pokemon GO:

1. Catch Stardust's Pokemon

The capture of Pokemon Go will bring a lot of benefits to the game players, can fill the Pokemon list, earn experience points, more opportunities to choose Pokemon with high CP points, earning Candy and also the chance to earn Stardust .

With each successful capture of a certain type of Pokemon, players will receive 100 Stardust for themselves. The more you catch, the more Stardust, so try to catch lots of Pokemon.

2. Pokemon eggs:

Hatching eggs also helps us get more Stardust. If you successfully hatch your eggs with 10km, you will receive 2000 Stardust. For eggs under 10km like 2km or 5km, they will receive less Stardust points. The more time and effort required to hatch eggs, the greater the amount of Stardust you receive.

3. Protect the gym successfully:

Gym is considered an important place and also makes a lot of wealth for game players. If you successfully defend the gym against an enemy attack, the game players will receive their Pokecoins and Stardust.

When participating in protecting the gym will start the 20 hour countdown time. When you complete 20 hours of defense, you will receive Stardust. The higher the defense of Pokemon, the more gamers will get Stardust.

2. When should I use Stardust?

As an essential and important material for players to upgrade their Pokemon, we also need to consider using Stardust, especially to upgrade Pokemon properly.

The upgrade of Pokemon does not earn XP, so you choose to upgrade before or after will not affect our leveling up. However, each coach has different tactics, but they all have the same principle that should only be upgraded when catching or possessing high CP points .

If your goal is just to catch lots of Pokemon, you can calculate upgrades from level 12 onwards. Because at that time we will be using Great Ball and catching the Pokemon with CP range from 400-800.

If players want to join the fight with other coaches, then use Stardust from level 20 onwards. Because then, we can own Ultra Ball and encounter Pokemon with much higher CP on 1000. So players will not need too much CP to upgrade from several hundred to several thousand. Because most of the Pokemon participating in the gym have CP levels from 2000 to 4000.
