

Summary of the hottest technology news in April 4, 2015

AAG fiber breakdown, Pirate Kings game rains, winds up Facebook, 5 useful applications for small business owners ... are the most interesting news and applications of the week

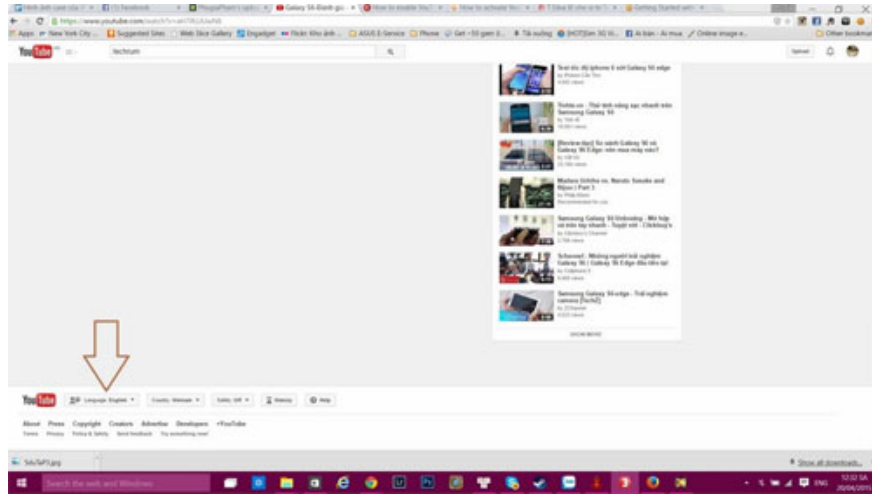

AAG fiber breakdown, Pirate Kings game "rain, wind" on Facebook, 5 useful applications for small business owners . are the most interesting news and applications of the week

1-In the morning of April 23, the AAG submarine cable was broken

News from International Telecommunication Company VNPT-I just said that at 5:45 am on April 23, 2015, the AAG submarine cable route was broken but VNPT-I has not yet determined the breakpoint, only detected source breakdown.See details

2- How to activate a transparent video player on YouTube

The world's leading YouTube video channel is currently testing a new interface with the video control bar becoming transparent and beautiful. However, the current update has not been released yet. This article will show you how to manually activate this new feature. See details

3- 7 essential features on smartphones

Stereo speakers, water resistant, built-in touch pen or fingerprint sensor are necessary equipment but not every new smartphone has. See details

4- Without iPhone, what can Apple Watch do?

Apple Watch is considered as a special accessory exclusively for iPhone. If connected to an iPhone, the Apple Watch can fulfill all its features: from making calls, sending messages, receiving notifications or even playing games. See details

5- How to block invitations from Pirate Kings?

In recent days, Pirate Kings game is emerging as a new phenomenon of game players. People who shoot each other, home shooting and even . calling for revenge is also very enthusiastic. Concepts such as "shooting island", "robbery", stone age . have become gradually familiar with a part of the Pirate Kings players everyday. But doesn't everyone like to play Pirate Kings? See details

Summary of the hottest tech news of April 4, 2015 (continued)

6- The YouTube app on Android already has the Download feature

Apple's iOS has come a long way since its launch in 2007 with its original name being iPhone OS. In terms of features, iOS is often said to be behind the competition, but its ability to organize and operate smoothly has made this platform a major success for its mobile devices.See details

8- The terms need to know in SEO

SEO terms are words or phrases used to describe factors, actions, and algorithms related to SEO website. There are many different SEO terms but this article will explain to you the 21 most basic and common SEO terms in SEO.See details

9- Pirate Kings - Mobile game is disturbing Facebook

In fact, Pirate Kings has been on Facebook (Social Media) since September 2014. This is a social game product developed by Jelly Button Games - a game development company from Israel with quite simple gameplay but fever in the Facebook and Mobile user community in recent times.See details

10- 5 useful applications for small business owners

Are you an online business or a small business owner operating your business day and night? You will encounter difficulties in communicating, balancing life, accounting or some of the daily management issues that you do not have enough time to solve. The following 5 applications will be useful for you to solve that problem.See details

You finished reading the article "Summary of the hottest technology news in April 4, 2015" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.