

'Super ultrabook' will appear at CES 2012

LG plans to release five new notebooks and desktops at the consumer electronics show in Las Vegas next week, including two models they call 'super ultrabooks'.

LG plans to launch five new notebooks and desktops at the consumer electronics show in Las Vegas next week, including two models they call "super ultrabook".

>>>Intel and 'strategy card' ultrabook

Super ultrabook LG Z330.

Korean electronics firm is attracting great attention when continuously announcing impressive products right before CES 2012 such as the world's largest OLED TV, LCD TV with a resolution of 3,840 x 2,160 pixels and the latest is the series. breakthrough.

Among these, Z330 Super Ultrabook weighs 1.2 kg, 13.3 inch HD screen, 10 seconds boot time, 4 GB RAM, SATA3 SSD drive 120 GB or 256 GB. The Z430 Super Ultrabool weighs 1.5 kg using a 14-inch HD screen, 12-second boot time, up to 8 GB of RAM and integrated SSD storage and HDD hard drive.

Z330 when holding in hand.

The sleek P535 notebook has a 15.6-inch HD LED screen while the A540 is a Full HD screen laptop with glass-free 3D content display, Nvidia GT555M graphics card.

Finally, the computer case system seamlessly integrates with 23-inch Full HD V-All-in-one PC screen, 178-degree viewing angle, touch control and 3D technology.

All 5 products have integrated high-speed Core i7 dual-core chips. However, LG has not mentioned battery life and product price.

You finished reading the article "Super ultrabook' will appear at CES 2012" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.