

Superport Portégé R830 costs 15.3 million

Portégé R830-2024UB still has 13 inch WLED screen resolution of 1366 x 768 pixels, Intel Core i3-2310M processor with 2 GHz speed, 4 GB RAM memory, 500 GB hard drive, Intel graphics chip HD.

The Portégé R830-2024UB is the world's lightest 13-inch screen laptop.

>>>Review Toshiba Portégé R830

The scratchy alloy shell, optical drive and slim and light design are great advantages on the R830.
(Photo: Tuan Hung) .

Along with the high-end versions using Core i5 and i7 processors, the laptop model for Toshiba's famous entrepreneur also adds a version using Intel Core i3 processor at an attractive price. This product still retains the design features such as aluminum alloy shell, very strong magnesium. Impact resistance when falling from a height of more than 70 cm and bearing pressure equivalent to 100 kg on the top of the machine. R830 is only about 1.9 cm thin and weighs 1.4 kg.

Portégé R830-2024UB still has 13 inch WLED screen resolution of 1366 x 768 pixels, Intel Core i3-2310M processor with 2 GHz speed, 4 GB RAM memory, 500 GB hard drive, Intel graphics chip HD. This product also uses some other features such as face recognition webcam, fingerprint identification slot, memory card reader, Wi-fi standard N, Bluetooth.

Reference price for Portégé R830-2024UB is 15.3 million (excluding VAT).

Previous tests for the Core i5, Portégé R830 have a battery life of over 5 hours. In addition, the heat dissipation capability of the machine as well as performance is quite good.

You finished reading the article "Superport Portégé R830 costs 15.3 million" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.

---