

Surely gamers will love this waterproof shoe, less than a week and earned more than 16 billion on Kickstarter

Not only has a strong athletic design, Tropic waterproof shoes also have many other features that perfectly meet the needs of experienced travel, from the city to remote wilderness.

Tropic is the name of a waterproof shoe product that is "storming" in the KickStarter community. Less than a week after its launch, Tropic received a 50-fold donation that the company wanted to achieve.

More precisely, Tropic has received the support of nearly 8500 users to date with a total amount of up to 745,000 USD. This number is expected to increase further in the near future.

Tropic has a youthful design, many colors to choose and a series of attractive features.

What do Tropic shoes have so much interest? The answer is not just water resistance. Tropic also has many other features such as anti-bacterial, no odor, extremely easy to dry and airy, so you don't need to wear socks.

Tropic's design brings many active sports styles, for both men and women and can be suitable when going out, going to school, working or hiking in the mountains. The sole is made of ultra-smooth non-slip rubber, creating the most comfortable feeling in every operation. The outer 3D mesh fabric has tiny air holes made from Cosmo fabric technology. Those who love the environment or vegetarians can also safely use Tropic because its ingredients are safe and not made from animals.

Tropic is suitable for traveling on various terrains, materials and environments.

Water resistant and fast drying is achieved thanks to the waterproof material layer. Tiny holes around the shoe allow water to flow through, not pooling and increasing the rate of evaporation during use. You will not have to wait to dry shoes or dry in the sun anymore.

KHAKI

Users are offered 2 different wires depending on the purpose of use.

Currently, each Tropic waterproof shoe has the lowest price of 59 Euro, equivalent to more than 1.5 million. You can visit KickStarter website to order now or donate more to choose bundled packages with more quantity, lower prices.
