When using devices that need to be plugged in or charged, the table must be placed next to a power plug. If you need to use multiple power outlets for multiple devices at the same time, it will be more inconvenient. A rather unique idea is to use the table leg as a power outlet. On the table leg there are countless power outlets, to help you delight in plugging the devices without worrying about missing.

This idea desk is called PowerPOST, it has the same design as normal desks with only one-legged thing with a different design, on it are electrical outlets. With this desk, you can use it anywhere, not necessarily with an external drive. It can also help you charge your computer, plug in a table lamp, and charge your phone . at the same time because the number of power sockets on this table is plenty. Enough to meet common needs. This is the idea of two designers: Choi Won Seok and Kim Do Yeo.
