

Technology jokes: The gender of the computer!

Computers are male! The right product size is very important.

Computers are male!

1. The right product size is very important.
2. When you want to buy one, you always know that if you wait a while longer, you will get a better product.
3. They look cuter and sleeker than when you took them home.
4. Always need to save backup, in case of loss, death.
5. They will do whatever you want if you press the right button.
6. The most interesting thing about having a game is to 'play' the game with it.
7. To attract attention, you have to 'turn' them on.
8. They should have helped us solve problems, but by half the time they were all causing problems.
9. They have a lot of data, but they are still messing up when you're looking.

Gender of the computer. Artwork: Internet.

Computer is female!

1. Once you have owned one, you will find that there will be many better types later.
2. Even your slightest errors are immediately put into memory for later analysis.

3. The language used to communicate with other computers does not make people understand.
4. The message 'Bad Command or File Name' means something like 'If you don't know why I'm upset about you then of course I won't say it.'
5. As soon as you buy a device, you will find yourself losing half of the bill on accessories.

According to Viet Entertainment

1. Technology jokes: When girls are IT people
2. Technology jokes: Present and future of hackers

You finished reading the article "Technology jokes: The gender of the computer!" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.