

The 3 steps to protect the phone charging cable are not damaged

You only need to apply the following simple phone charging cable protection tips, everything will no longer worry.

For Smartphone users, everyone must have experienced a broken or broken cable once, causing the charging quality to deteriorate or not being able to be charged anymore. Instead of having to buy a new cord, there is a way to protect your phone charger cable safely, increasing the usage time and not being expensive at all.

1. Common mistakes when charging the phone

Currently the charger cable that comes with the phone is usually covered by the outer rubber layer, after a period of use if the rubber coating is cracked or damaged, the cable inside the cable will have to "suffer" . This is extremely annoying and unfortunate, because the genuine charging cables will bring optimal safety to your device when compared to the purchased external cable.

Damaged charging cable is a common occurrence in the use of electronic equipment

In this article, TipsMake.com will guide readers with a small trick to overcome the situation, which is worth mentioning the cost of the whole process as well as less than a few thousand materials, even You can't lose thousands because you can take advantage of home appliances.

Protect the non-damaged charging cable with the ball pen spring