

The 6 best photo editing apps are expected to become 'hot trends' in 2021

All possessing outstanding features and resonating in 2020, this series of applications is expected to be 'storming' for a year to come!

Today, photo editing app is very useful in life, almost indispensable in meetings to produce genuine photos. From old - young - big - baby, now everyone will definitely have at least a few applications in their phone that specialize in serving their virtual living needs.

In addition to chanting beautiful photos, now more and more apps are playing the role of connecting people in group photos, selfies, taking with family, . Here are 6 apps. Photo editing is expected to 'make things happen' during the year-end festival season and the year 2021 as the feature series has 1-0-2.

1. B612

Launched in 2015, B612 is still considered the best 'delicious - nutritious - cheap' photo editing application for the virtual fanatics. Not only available for free on both iOS and Android operating systems, B612 also meets almost all of the diverse photography needs with a range of different features.

One of the most important situations in virtual life is when you're out with friends. If you need to live virtual in a group but do not know how to take photos to 'trendy' then rest assured, the design suggestion feature of B612 will help you. If you want to take a selfie together, you can add more beautiful stickers so that everyone on the picture is beautiful, not afraid of showing defects on the face.

On the occasion of the fast rushing festival season, B612 is also very hard to update users with the latest virtual living trends. Among them are stickers, trendy filter series with the theme of Christmas, Western New Year and the upcoming Tan Suu Lunar New Year. In particular, not only editing photos, B612 also has a ton of other 'cool' features exclusively for videos!

2. Foodie

For many years, Foodie has always been the name at the top of the list of the most beautiful free food photo editing apps on social networks. Surely everyone here is too familiar with the scene before they rush to eat and drink, have to open this application to take a few pictures to 'worship Facebook' or post a story, right?

Not only supports food and drink color correction, Foodie also provides users with a series of filters with many Korean color tones, suitable for all needs from outdoor, indoor shooting to our selfie. . During each trip, just have a phone with Foodie pre-installed and you will be spoiled for beautiful pictures!

A new outstanding feature of Foodie is Recipe - which gives you a multitude of color recipes available from domestic and international bloggers and is constantly updated. All you need to do is upload the photo you need to edit, then click your favorite color to finish!

3. SODA

If you like to take a beautiful selfie but still look natural, please download and always SODA app to your phone! This application is 100% free, provides users with a variety of filters available with multi-style makeup tones, whether it is to edit facial details or brighten skin to look natural without being 'ridiculous'. In addition, like B612, the app also integrates a multitude of stickers according to the hottest trends such as Christmas, New Year, Hip-hop, Retro, .

4. VSCO

VSCO is probably a name that is no stranger to photo-lovers. The biggest advantage of this app is that the artistic high color filters, from classical to modern, have enough. However, VSCO also requires users to be skilled at using many tools in order to produce a satisfactory photo. To use all color filters and the "genuine" functions of the app, you have to spend up to 469,000 VND / year.

5. Lightroom CC

Lightroom CC is a professional photo editing application available on both iOS and Android operating systems, developed by Adobe. App "storms" in 2020 with filters of orange tone, gray tone . suitable for photo check-in, travel. However, if you want to 'unlock' all the functions, users have to spend up to 499,000 VND - a small amount of money, right ?!

6. Instagram

First launched in 2010, Instagram and Facebook are known as two 'national' social networking platforms that every young person must have on their phone. Not only supports posting photos or stories, the app also allows you to edit photos directly thanks to color filters and built-in features. However, the editing options on this platform are not really diverse, so users often tend to edit photos through another application before posting on Instagram.

You finished reading the article "The 6 best photo editing apps are expected to become 'hot trends' in 2021" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.

---