Apple unveiled two new iPad Pros last week and, for the moment, Amazon is still offering a $50 discount on the 12.9-inch base model. It was previously offering a $50 discount on the entry-level 11-inch version as well, but that deal has now been replaced by a $50 discount on the 256GB model. Even though some retailers have started to cut the prices of the previous-generation iPad Pros, the new 2020 entry-level models -- which offer more storage and better specs overall -- are still the better value.

Apple iPad discounts, compared

Model	List price	Best price (current)	Best price (all-time)
10.2-inch iPad 2019 (32GB)	$329	$279	$230
7.9-inch iPad Mini 2019 (64GB)	$399	$350	$350
10.5-inch iPad Air 2019 (64GB)	$499	$499	$400
11-inch iPad Pro 2020 (128GB)	$799	$799	$750
11-inch iPad Pro 2018 (64GB)	$799	$674	$649
12.9-inch iPad Pro 2020 (128GB)	$999	$950	$950
12.9-inch iPad Pro 12.9 (64GB)	$999	$899	$850

Otherwise, most other iPads are discounted by $40 to $50. We've got the best prices for each model below. Though we've included some Amazon links here -- as it often has the lowest price on Apple products -- bear in mind that the retailer is delaying some shipments of nonessential items by up to a month in the US.

Finally, we're focused on the Wi-Fi versions of the iPad; using LTE on a tablet is cool, but for most people it's not worth the additional cost -- for the device and the monthly service -- especially when you can easily tether your phone for free.
