In this article, I will show you the best-known Firefox addons, based on which you can customize and accelerate the web browsing experience with these 10 tiny extensions.

Firefox is a feature-rich and popular web browser, not only because of its speed and reliability: the browser constantly offers custom capabilities that Google Chrome, Opera, and Safari do not have. . Even Internet Explorer, with a collection of add-on, Web Slices, and Accelerators, cannot compare to Firefox in terms of flexibility. Firefox has thousands of addons, allowing you to change the look of the browser as well as what it can do. There are indeed many changes that you already know, but there are many other things that you may not know or cannot imagine.

Through exploring the members of the company to see if they can say no to Firefox addons, then we have narrowed their responses to the 10 most popular add-ons, these 10 add-ons. We will list them below in alphabetical order. Although we can always find more on the Mozilla website, this list will make you save a lot of time.

1. ColorfulTabs: Turn your Firefox settings into a very cool browser. ColorfulTabs will make Firefox tabs open in different colors, so you can easily recognize them through a glance. This add-on makes the Firefox window much more attractive.

2. Cooliris: Surfing the web can be for news as well as for entertainment, and most dynamic websites have a similar look. However, with Install Cooliris, you can view search results on sites like Google, YouTube, and Flickr, view photos from Facebook, Picasa, and PC as an infinite 3D wall of windows.

3. Echofon: Like Twitter, but some users don't like it on the PC every day or run a separate program to update information from your friends. If you encounter this problem, use Echofon, Echofon will immediately send notifications in updates from your friends with icons in the status bar, so you can click and view any time I want. Echofon also supports multi-accounts and directive messages.

4. ForecastFox: If you want to leave home with one of the necessary items such as umbrellas, raincoats, or sex glasses. Use ForecastFox, this add-on lets you view weather forecasts in many countries around the toolbar window.

5. GooglePedia: The power of information contained in Wikipedia is amazing, but users can take a lot of time and effort to look up a small problem. GooglePedia solves this problem by displaying a relevant Wikipedia article along with search results on Google. The links in Wikipedia articles will automatically be searched in Google using those terms.

6. LastPass Password Manager: Keeping online logins safe is quite a difficult issue, plus remembering them all is a challenge. But those burdens can be solved with LastPass, this is an add-on that can track your username and password, so you only need to log in once. In addition, this add-on will fill out forms, help you manage data between computers, and can help you track the passwords that you may have lost on your computer.

7. Morning Coffee: This often happens to all of us: We want to check our favorite websites every morning before we work, but when we're still sleepy, it's hard to use mouse or keyboard expertly. At this time, Morning Coffee will bring its effect. This add-on will allow you to organize websites by day and open all those websites when you launch Firefox and save you a lot of time.

8. StumbleUpon: Web can be overwhelming and discovering really interesting sites is almost impossible. StumbleUpon can help: Click the " Stumble " button on the toolbar it adds to take you to a site. If you like where you are, click the " I like it! " Button; otherwise, click the decline button. StumbleUpon will learn from your answers to give you the better in the future.

9. Tab Mix Plus: Have you ever been bored with the same old tabs? Load Tab Mix Plus and start duplicating them, closing multiple tabs simultaneously, controlling when and why they open, etc. You will never want to go back to the traditional tab again.

10. Xmarks: If you are a forced bookmarker and often use multiple computers, Xmarks can save you a lot of time. It can back up and sync your bookmarks or passwords, can even detect new sites that you might find interesting (based on what other users are bookmarking).
