

The best free Microsoft Word template download websites

When you need to compose a document in Microsoft Word, using the template is helpful. Whether you want to create a resume, a report, a proposal, a plan, or another popular document, templates will give you a starting point in the right format.

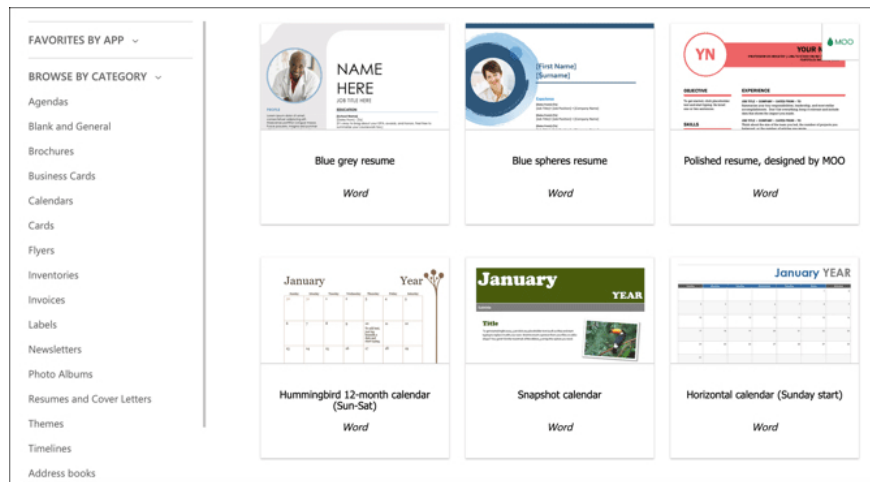

When you need to compose a document in Microsoft Word, using the template is helpful. Whether you want to create a resume, a report, a proposal, a plan, or another popular document, templates will give you a starting point in the right format.

Here are 6 websites that offer free choice of the best Word template you should consider.

1. How to automate Microsoft Word forms with custom fields
2. How to create and use templates in Microsoft Word
3. 10 impressive table of contents templates for Microsoft Word

1. Templates.office.com

When it comes to Microsoft Word templates, where could it be better than Microsoft Office Online? The advantage of using this resource as the sample comes directly from Microsoft.

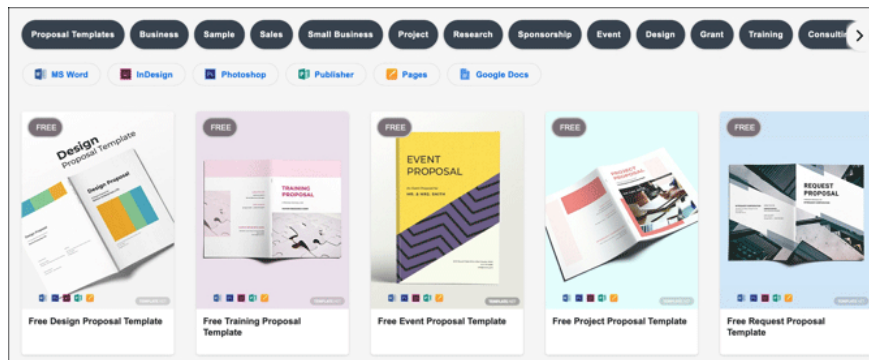

The site is well organized, you can search by keyword or browse by category, event or application. And you'll find hundreds of free Word templates like resumes, cover letters, brochures, advertisements, calendars, cards and more.

When you see a template you like, select it to see a brief description. Click the Download button to use it on your computer or click Edit in Browser to open the template in Microsoft Word Online.

2. Template.net

Another great place to download Word templates is Template.net. Because the site offers both free and paid form, unwieldy search box. You should use the Templates button at the top and then select the category Free Templates.

Template.net the free Word templates for everything from contracts, invoices, to the voucher plan. When you select a category, you will see a series of results. Each template has icons for their respective applications. So, to choose a Word template, look for the Microsoft Word logo on it.

To download the template, you need to register for a free account. Choose a template, click on Free Download and continue the process to get the template.

3. Vertex42

<https://www.vertex42.com/WordTemplates/>

Another place to download Microsoft Office templates is Vertex42. Although the site focuses primarily templates for Excel, but you can also choose many beautiful Word template. At the top, you will see the Word Templates navigation button. Just click on it to see the full list of templates.

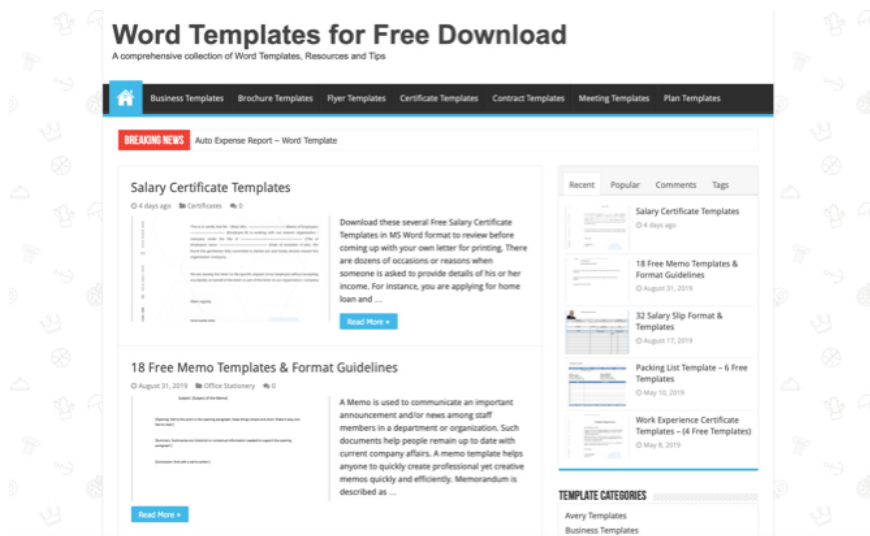

Users can find specific letters, resumes, leaflets or templates with assignments, exercise diaries and checklists for camping and shopping. When sampling for viewing or downloading, you will see the relevant form at the end is very useful.

To download a template, simply select it to see the full description including application recording and compatible version. Select versions of Word, click the Download button and then follow the instructions for sampling.

4. Wordtemplates.org

WordTemplates.org site contains tons of samples used for business or personal.

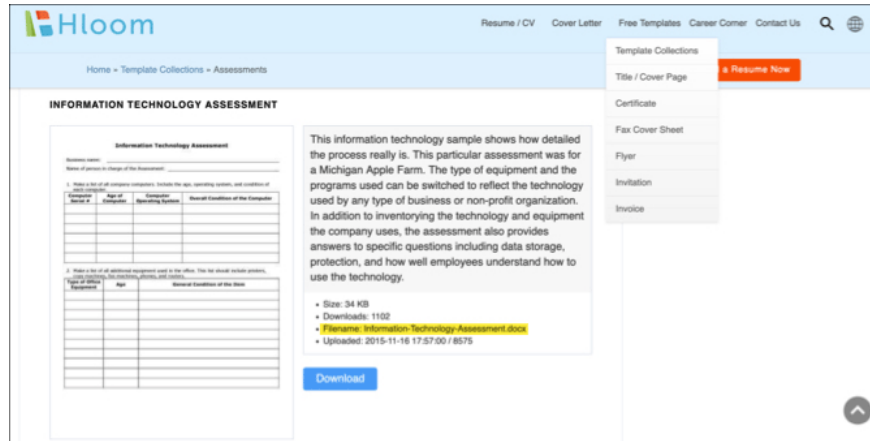

When visiting the site, you will see a simple way to navigate common patterns like advertisements, certificates, leaflets and contracts. You can also check the options and common or recent searches specific form.

Each template provides useful descriptions and photos. When you find a template you like, select it and click the Download Now button. You do not need to register an account or pay a fee. WordTemplates.org offers completely free templates.

5. Hloom.com

Hloom is an interesting site provides templates for all Microsoft Office applications, not just Word. So, this is the site you need to bookmark if necessary templates for Excel or PowerPoint.

At the top, you'll see Free Templates and can choose to view specific collections or templates like invoices, certificates, invitations, or flyers. If you check the Template Collections section, you will see that the samples are organized into categories from contract to survey.

To download a template, select it to see a description of the document type. Besides the file name, you will see the extension DOCX to know this is the template for Word. Click on the Download button.

6. Stock Layouts

<https://www.stocklayouts.com/Templates/Free-Templates/Free-Sample-Templates.aspx>

Stock Layouts is a site anymore you can check when you want to download the Microsoft Word template. Users will find many attractive options for their projects.

The site offers both free and paid samples. To view a free sample, click on the button at the top and choose Templates Free Templates. Then in Graphic Design Templates Free, click on the dots to move through the different items.

When you find your favorite template, select it and check the file format for Word because the site also provides templates for applications like Illustrator and Apple Pages. Login or register with a free account and then press the Free Download button.

These six websites are great resources for free Word templates. Bookmark them all, and you won't have to waste time making prototypes from scratch.

You finished reading the article "The best free Microsoft Word template download websites" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.