

The creepy mysteries of GTA 5

Although GTA 5 is a very familiar game for gamers, there are still many creepy mysteries that have not been answered.

The Ghost of Mount Morgo

In GTA 5, you will encounter ghosts hanging from large rocks and below them will be engraved the words 'Jock' written in blood. And this ghost has long black hair, white face, wears a white dress, a classic appearance with female ghosts. When camping at the foot of the mountain, gamers will also hear the groans of these ghosts.

And the answer to the origin of this ghost is that she is Jolene Cranley. During a disagreement with her husband Jock, he intentionally pushed her down a cliff and died on the spot. But because there was not enough evidence, the husband was presumed innocent. That's why this ghost is here looking for a chance to get revenge.

Dead bodies in Paleto Bay

When diving in Paleto Bay in the northern part of the map, you will find eight human bodies wrapped in plastic bags chained to eight rocks on the seabed. According to what has been published, this is the victim of Merle Abrahams – he is known as the infinite killer.

After killing these 8 people, he was arrested and imprisoned at Bolingbroke Prison, which is also where he took his last breath.

The mystery of the corpse in the mines of GTA 5

This is where ghost phenomena occur most, when entering the basement, you can hear someone's footsteps following you. Going deeper inside, gamers will also encounter a corpse lying right on the tracks. The truth about these corpses has not been made public.

You finished reading the article "The creepy mysteries of GTA 5" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.