

The Facebook Dating feature has appeared in Vietnam, including Secret Crush to confess to someone you like

Facebook Dating is a dating feature on Facebook, currently only available in 14 countries. Brazil, Philippines, Vietnam, Singapore, Malaysia are the 5 new countries that have been updated with this new feature, including the newly announced Secret Crush feature.

Facebook Dating is a dating feature on Facebook, currently only available in 14 countries. Brazil, Philippines, Vietnam, Singapore, Malaysia are the 5 new countries that have been updated with this new feature, including the newly announced Secret Crush feature. However, not all Vietnamese Facebook accounts are updated.

How it works The Facebook Dating feature is similar to the popular dating apps today.

For accounts that have been updated with Facebook's dating feature, inside the user profile interface, Facebook Dating will appear. When you click here, users will be created a separate account, based on which Facebook will suggest other users accordingly. Users have the option, click on Interested if someone likes, and vice versa click Pass to skip a proposed account.

Welcome, Giàu!

A dedicated dating space for you

We don't share things like your dating profile or conversations to other places on Facebook.

Help Center and Safety Tips

Get Started

Match with people based on things in common

We suggest people based on your dating profile and preferences, friends in common, things you do and share on Facebook, and more.

Get Started

5:43

Discover dates in your events and groups

You can choose to see your suggested matches going to the same events or in the same groups as you.

Get Started

If the person who wants to export also likes you, Facebook will connect two people together. If the other person doesn't like you, you can still text that person.

Private accounts on Dating will be completely independent of Facebook accounts, even conversations are not shared with Messenger. To create this account, users only need to add a avatar, gender of the object they want to get acquainted with and information about themselves.

What's your gender?

This is used to suggest matches for you and to suggest you for others. It isn't visible on your dating profile.

Woman

Man

More Options

Next

Who are you interested in seeing?

This is used to suggest matches for you and to suggest you for others. It isn't visible on your dating profile.

Women

Trans Women

Men

Trans Men

Non-Binary People

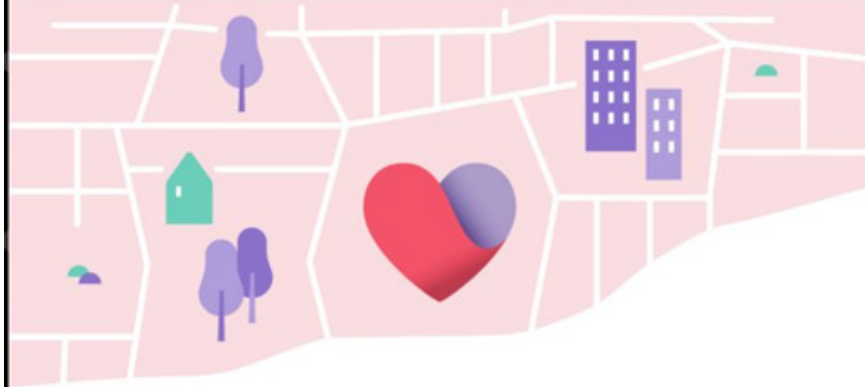

Next

Your dating location

Dating uses Location Services to set your dating location and suggest people near you, but doesn't automatically update your dating location.

Your dating location is always visible on your dating profile and can be changed in your dating preferences.

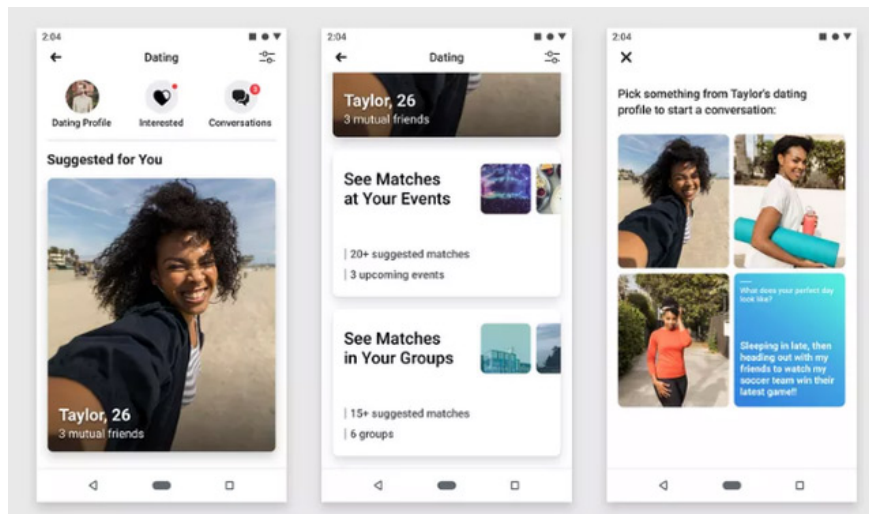

Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam

Next

Perhaps Facebook will have to study user habits and preferences on the basis of this social network to be able to find the right person for each user on Dating.

In addition, Facebook recently added a new feature in Facebook Dating, Secret Crush, which allows users to choose to like someone in their friends list, if that person is also secretly liking you and choosing to like then both will be connected.

You finished reading the article "The Facebook Dating feature has appeared in Vietnam, including Secret Crush to confess to someone you like" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.