

The 'father' of Game of Thrones wanted to die with the Stark family during The Red Wedding event

Novelist George RR Martin said he wanted a small cameo in Game of Thrones' The Red Wedding and even died in the event.

In a recent blog post, the famous writer George RR Martin revealed that he wanted a small cameo in the Game of Thrones Red Wedding event, which is also one of the most classic episodes when removing the goods. The main character series is fan favorite.

Please review your knowledge a bit if you have forgotten what Red Wedding is and what events it includes. The Red Wedding takes place in Episode 9 of Season 3 - The Rains of Castamere, revolving around the wedding of Edmure Tully and Roslin Frey in Twins. However, this is actually a play by Walder Frey in collaboration with Roose Bolton and the Lannister family staged in order to kill Stark's house because of his broken promise. All the leading wolves of Stark at that time were Robb Stark, Catelyn Stark and Talisa Stark (Robb's wife) were brutally murdered at the surprise of millions of spectators, especially those who had not have read the novel version.

George RR Martin wants to attend Red Wedding in Game of Thrones.

Returning to George, the British writer said he had wanted to appear on the small screen many times in Game of Thrones with cameo roles, but unfortunately it was not possible. He said he enjoyed attending the Red Wedding and even died with the Stark family at the event, because he felt ' it was fair because he created such a cruel script '. However, eventually the production team rejected George's idea that it was not suitable for the dramatic and emotional film at that time, which could make the audience's emotions not be complete.

In addition, George also revealed that he had been in a cameo role since the first season, in Daenerys' wedding scene with Khal Drogo. However, things did not go as smoothly as he expected. Initially, the role of 'Dragon Mother' was played by actress Tamzin Merchant, and was later replaced by Emilia Clarke. As a result, all of Tamzin's footage, including George's cameo, was forced to cut before it officially aired. In addition, he also wants to have a 'stakes' like Ned Stark at Red Keep, but funding for the techniques of HBO does not allow this.

George RR Martin used to play Game of Thrones in a small cameo role, but was eventually caught away and he never had a chance to appear in this cult series again.

Currently, during the home isolation, George is actively completing the sixth volume of the story - The Winds of Winter in A Song of Ice and Fire. This is the inspiration, the forerunner of the Game of Thrones TV version, and also one of the classic fantasy works of popular culture. The first volume, A Game of Thrones, has been published since 1996, and the latest volume, A Dance with Dragons, was released nine years ago. Therefore, it goes without saying that it is possible to understand how fans are expecting The Winds of Winter. However, the novelist was so busy with his personal business projects that the composing process often stalled.

After the controversial conclusion of Game of Thrones in 2019, the novel version can be considered as the last hope of fans to have a more plausible storyline than the TV version. However, after The Winds of Winter, readers will probably still have to wait for a longer time for George to complete A Dream of Spring. This is the final episode of A Song of Ice and Fire.
