Players who love the role-playing game genre cannot help but know Final Fantasy. This is also considered by many to be the best series of all time. The most outstanding feature of this game series is the good, meaningful storyline and profound content it conveys to players. There are some parts that bring the most attractive content.

Final Fantasy VII

It will be difficult not to mention Final Fantasy VII when mentioning the game with the most impressive storyline. Because this is the first game built in 3D format.

Players will follow Cloud in this game and carry out the mission to stop the dark plot of his comrade Sephiroth and the mutant known as Genoa. The most attractive highlight of Final Fantasy VII is the tangled relationships between the characters, and most notably the love triangle between Cloud - Tifa and Aerith.

Final Fantasy VIII

After Final Fantasy VII, Final Fantasy VIII also did well by possessing an equally interesting plot. The story in this game focuses on Squall and the time he trained to become a real warrior at Balamb Garden military school.

After that, he will meet and fight with other very familiar names like Edea and Rinoa. In addition, the love between Rinoa and Squall is also considered one of the most beautiful couples in the Final Fantasy series.

Final Fantasy XV

Finally, the part of the game that is considered to also have an outstanding storyline is part XV. Although overall, it doesn't attract too much attention as it only focuses on the group's journey to save the world. However, the small details and small parts in this game have created a certain attraction for gamers.

You will transform into Noctis - the heir to the Lucian royal throne with the task of preventing the expansion and dark plots of the Niflheim empire. Throughout your journey, you will experience mysteries, unexpected stories, and stimulate your curiosity. That's why this is a part of the game that you cannot miss.
