

The Forum focuses on notorious social network hackers who have been hacked and sold for sale on other forums

OGUSERS - a famous forum for gathering hackers.

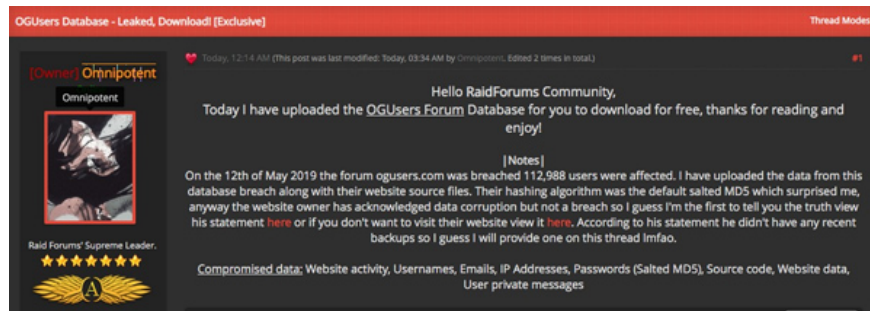

OGUSERS - a famous forum for gathering hackers. This information is governed by OGUSERS with the nickname Ace launched on Tuesday. Accordingly, there was access to the server and access to the backups of this forum from December 26, 2018 through a custom plug in the forum software.

Members of OGUSERS are called OGU, hackers who attack and steal accounts on social networking sites like Instagram and Twitter. They will then exchange, sell or auction stolen accounts on this forum.

These hackers often use SIM Swapping technology to hack the victim's phone number, then take control of the accounts by resetting the password.

After this forum was hacked and stolen, the implementer uploaded the database to another forum called Radiforums. Stolen data includes account information, passwords that are hashed by MD5 algorithm, email, IP address, and secret messages of forum members. In addition, the source code of the web is also exposed.

With this serious incident, OGUSERS is hard to recover and the members of the forum are also able to reveal their identity.

You finished reading the article "The Forum focuses on notorious social network hackers who have been hacked and sold for sale on other forums" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.