From the end of last week to the present, netizens using chat tools yahoo (IM) fluttering before the arrival of a virus with the speed of infection is rated as the fastest ever and proved very good. dengoures.

More dangerous, the virus also spreads to both cell phones via bluetooth and mobile phones with web browsing and e-mail capabilities via Wi-Fi.

Meanwhile, cyber security experts have not yet identified the virus and no measures to prevent its rapid spread.

For computers infected with viruses, the IM window even while in incognito mode (invisible) automatically switches to the available mode, then black out all the nick in IM.

At the same time, a folder window will automatically pop up to add (insert) the file containing the virus from the CWINDOWhinhem.scr path sent to all the blacked out.

If the owner of a nick accidentally clicks on this dangerous link, the computer will immediately become infected with the virus and will automatically perform spam (spread) virus operations as described above.

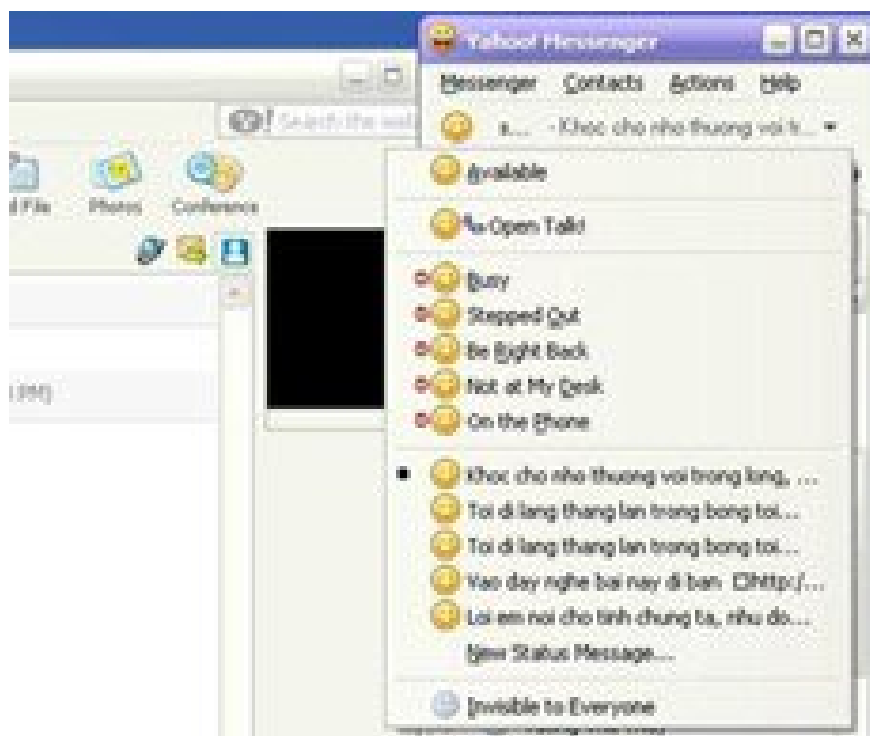

Another notable feature is that all IMs on infected computers are automatically added to a lot of status messages of very cheesy songs with links to viruses, such as:

' I want to tell my friends, the needs are great in the movie. The guy who wants to use it to send him to bat . <http://nhatquanglan6.t35.com> ', or' The content of the user will be happy to know how to do it very well. Gio people who need to go to school, are very smart, so . <http://gaigoibaucat.xlphp.net> '.

The virus also spreads over LANs, causing LANs to malfunction at any time.

In addition, if the computer is infected with this virus, when processing documents with Word software, or presenting on QuarkExpress software, Corel Draw ., many CWINDOWhinhem.scr sections are automatically inserted into the text. There are also times when the text being processed is blacked out in its entirety, the text is often converted to capital letters.

As reflected by many readers through the hotline of Tien Phong newspaper, many mobile phones have been infected with the same link when turning on bluetooth mode or surfing the web, receiving mail.

Hoang Tuan Anh, computer expert, Cavinet Company said that the initial analysis showed that this is a virus written and distributed by Vietnamese hackers. ' What the virus is spreading shows that it is very dangerous. Computer users must be especially wary of this virus ' - Mr. Hoang Tuan Anh warned.

This computer expert said that this is the fastest infection virus ever. ' In a period of 60 - 80 seconds, IM is infected with the virus to spam the virus once. When the chat shows this expression, the user should turn off the device, temporarily not use it and ask the technical staff to intervene. Chat should not be used at this time. ' - Mr. Tuan Anh advised.

Contact Mr. Nguyen Tu Quang - Director of Hanoi University of Security (BKIS), we were asked to transfer the virus samples for analysis and he confirmed that he will identify the virus to update the anti-virus version during The earliest time.

Virus analyst Le Tien Thinh of BKIS said this is a new variant of the internal virus, similar to the Catch IM and Dakrong viruses that appeared earlier this year. BKIS is still analyzing this virus.

The virus is causing headaches for computer experts during the past few days. At many offices, technical staff used the latest updated anti-virus software of Symantec, BKAV of Hanoi University of Technology Security Center . but could not detect this virus.

Therefore, the only way to prevent this virus is to kill it manually, to remove the operating system on the computer that has been infected and reinstalled. However, not many people use computers with sufficient skills to apply this method.
