3 familiar tactics in Rules of Survival

1. Hide more than confrontation

1. Genuine map locations in Map 8x8 Rules Of Survival

The locations are heavily armed, loot items like Bitter Lake, Echo Valleys will be dangerous places, noting the attraction of many other players.

Because of this, there will be many gamers who choose lesser-known positions, remote places to avoid encountering enemies. But the disadvantage of this "excessive" safe play is that the chance to find necessary items like weapons, bombs, grenades, and necessities will be quite small. It takes time to travel due to the distance from the bo.

2. Dress up around hot spots

You can choose the 'hot' areas that players often visit to loot items. Each location will have different terrain so we will need to calculate how to observe the direction of the enemy's movement, such as on towers, huts, hills or mountains, .

Special attention should be paid to the locations where the drop boxes are dropped from the plane, with powerful weapons, because there are many people who will run out quickly to get things. Be ambushed around resupply boxes, use sniper rifles, bullets to destroy prey.

3. Pioneer in gunfight

There will be plenty of players who are very active in gunfights, always appearing in 'hot' locations in the map. Of course to be able to roll off like that, players will need to have certain shooting skills, genuine weapons, fully equipped, blood, energy drinks.

This type of strategy is not applied much while playing, due to the risk and attention from other shooters so you will rarely encounter this type.

Often, new players in Rules of Survival, or experienced players in the game, also choose to hide and ambush tactics in hot positions. These 2 types of tactics will partly help you with less energy, less likely to be destroyed, instead of rolling off in battles like strategy type 3.
