

The most popular iPhone apps

US technology firm recently announced the App Store Rewind list, which highlights the most popular consumer iPhone apps and games in 2011.

US technology firm recently announced the App Store Rewind list, which highlights the most popular consumer iPhone apps and games in 2011.

Although iPhone phones have appeared quite a lot in Vietnam and are among the best-selling high-end product lines in the country, the games and applications below may be known to many people for the first time.

Below is the application of the year and the game of the year on Apple's iPhone. Each category includes 1 first prize and 2 second prizes.

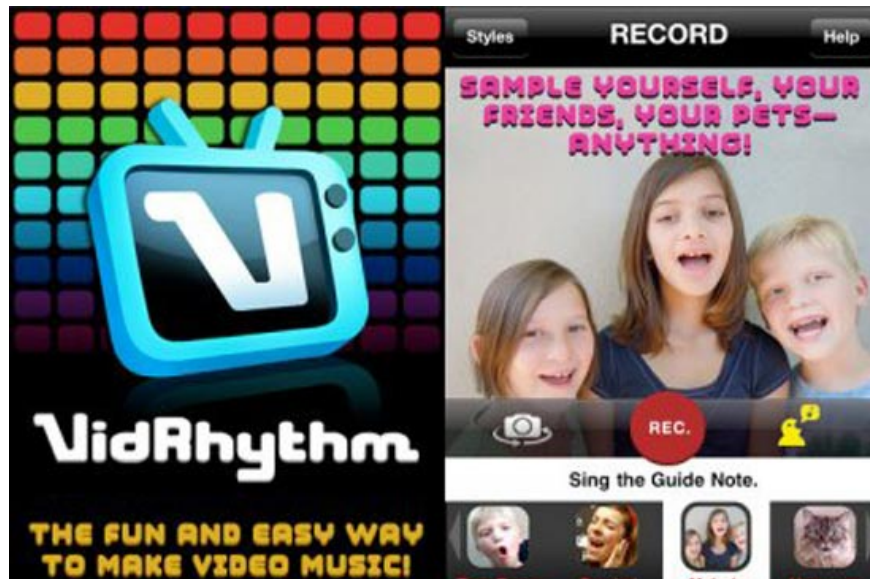

Application of the year

First prize: Instagram

Instagram is the most popular application in 2011. With this free software, you can add existing filters to your images and share them easily on many different social networks. Therefore, it is not surprising that Apple gave Instagram the title 'Application of the year'.

Second prize: VidRhythm

At $ 1.99, VidRhythm helps you become a professional music producer. From some of the templates that you get from any source, including recordings and video clips, this app will automatically assemble them together to form a music video.

Second prize: Band of the Day

Also an application for music lovers. With free software Band of the Day, every day, users have the opportunity to 'research' new music groups, listen to their recordings, see the schedule and comments about them.

Game of the year:

First prize: Tiny Tower

This free game is very suitable for those who are followers of Sim Tower. With this program, you can build a tower and manage people who live in it. You have to build houses and shops to make money and bring happiness to your 'resident' community.

Second prize: Tiny Wings

In this game, you have to control a good fat bird that can't fly, unless you give the bird a jump in time. You must win as many stars and upgrades as possible before the sun in the diving game. The price of this product is $ 0.99.

Second prize: Touchgrind BMX

With a relatively high price compared to other games and applications in this list, Touchgrind BMX still attracts many iPhone users. In this game, you will have to manually control a car by manipulating touch and avoiding pitfalls on the road. The price of this game is $ 4.99.
