

The most searched keywords on Google in each country, according to Fixr.com statistics

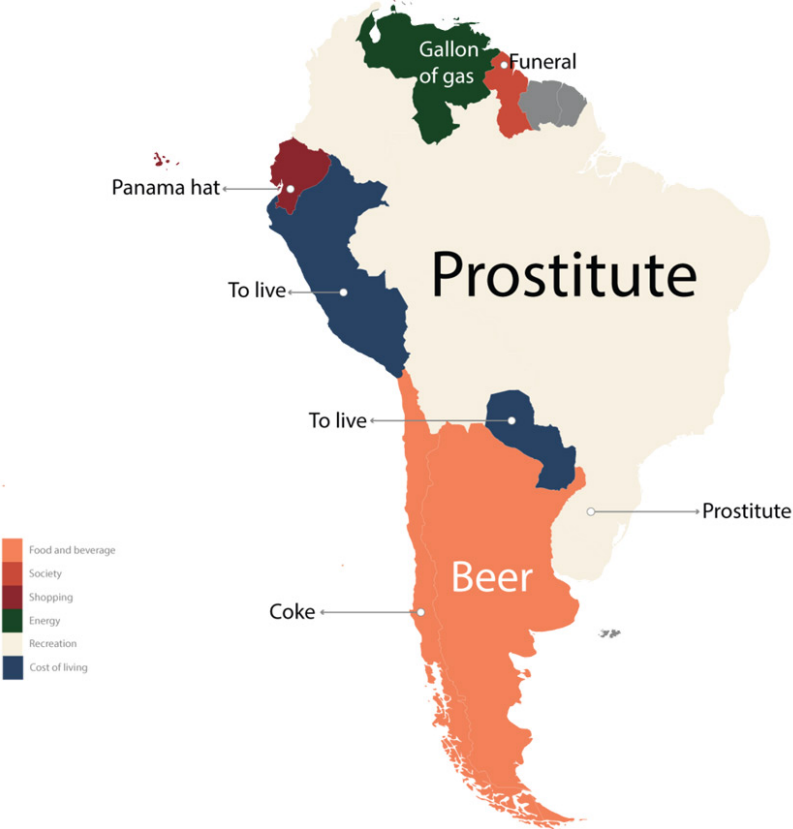

Based on these keywords we can take a new look at the search habits in countries around the world.

Fixr.com, a firm specializing in price estimation, has compiled maps of the most sought-after things in countries around the world according to the formula "[How to find] how much is [country] worth , original English is ("How much does * cost in [x country]."). Based on these keywords we can take a new look at the search habits in countries around the world.

The most sought-after electronics prices keywords in China, in the US people seem to be very interested in patents, and in Australia people are more interested in in vitro fertilization (IVF). In Vietnam, the price of foam beer is the most searched keyword.

South America

Australia

Antartica

See more:

1. Summarize the keywords that make up Facebook
2. Interesting things about Google Search you may not know!
3. Google changes the search engine, gives a unique answer and hides unnecessary links in some cases

You finished reading the article "The most searched keywords on Google in each country, according to Fixr.com statistics" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.