It all began in January 2006, in New York, a female patient told her psychiatrist about a strange man who frequently appeared in her dream and gave helpful advice. in life, motivate her spirit. The female patient repainted the portrait of the man according to his memory and insisted that she had never met him in real life.

A few days later, another patient came to see him, he accidentally saw the portrait placed on the doctor's table and also confirmed that the mysterious man had repeatedly "visited" his dream. .

This coincidence has attracted the attention of a psychiatrist, he decided to send a portrait to some of his colleagues to find out if anyone ever dreamed of this strange man. is not. The results made many people not surprised, only within 4 months, 4 others also confirmed that they also met this man while falling asleep.

Different images of mysterious men.

From then until the end of 2011, there were at least 2,000 people in many different cities around the world acknowledging, the mysterious man in the portrait constantly appeared in their dreams.

There have been many investigations, searching for this mysterious man as well as how he came into everyone's dreams but so far no results have been achieved.

There are many theories proposed to explain this mysterious phenomenon.

The first hypothesis is that the first female patient to portray a strange man in his dream never saw the face of the man, but only vaguely imagined a face caught outside. Road and describe it as a mysterious man. The others, too, when they saw that portrait, the brain immediately matched the face in the picture to the mysterious man in his dreams and misconceptions.

Another hypothesis is that the image of a mysterious man appeared in the dream of more than 2000 people is an experiment of a large corporation.

Superstitious people believe that this mysterious man is one of the images God uses to communicate with people.

But all these are just unproven hypotheses, so far there has been no satisfactory answer to the common dream of a mysterious man of 2,000 different people. The mysterious man's face in dreams is still a big question mark without an answer.
