

The popular cat breed in Vietnam

The popular cat breed in Vietnam. A cat is a lovely animal and is always sought for as a family pet. In our country, there are many species of cats common and partly imported from abroad. They have characteristics as well as personalities and certainly prices

A cat is a lovely animal and is always sought for as a family pet. In our country, there are many species of cats common and partly imported from abroad. They have the characteristics as well as the personality and probably the price of each cat is also different. To find out which cat breeds are most popular in Vietnam, read the article below.

1. American cats are short-haired

American short-haired cats have lots of different colors, counting to 80 colors. The common colors of this breed are smoky, blended, etc. Short-haired American cats have the body of a working cat: skinny, muscular and strong, their agility and endurance as a first-class predator. Medium ears, round head, big, lovely eyes. When mature, they usually weigh from 6 to 8 kg. Females appear to be around 4 to 7 kg lighter. American short-haired cats do not take much effort to nurture because they are healthy cats, docile and do not jump too much around the house. They are easy to train, friendly with families, children, and other pets. The average life expectancy falls to 15 to 20 years.

2. Russian cat with blue eyes

The blue-eyed Russian cat, originally from Russia, is one of the breeds that are considered aristocratic because of their elegance and power with the eyes of a ghostly blue, the head is described as a cobra's head, always be welcomed everywhere in the world including Vietnam. To buy a beautiful Russian cat, you have to spend about 10 to 15 million in Vietnam dong. This cat is of medium size but strong, muscular, just like other cats they like to run and climb. One of the hallmarks of blue-eyed cats is their strangely beautiful blue eyes, their silky smooth coat, their characteristic grayish green and their silvery hairs, which make them look stunning in any moment. come on. Although they like to run and dance, but beside the owner is extremely shy, emotional and thoughtful, likes to be fussy. This will be a really great gift if anyone likes the deep and quiet. Blue-eyed Russian cats are quite easy to eat, they aren't picky, but we have to provide enough food and nutrition for them to grow healthy and especially avoid obesity and failure. nutrition.

3. American cat twisted ears

If you want to buy a cat to keep at home then you must know all about it. A special feature of this American cat ear twisted pair of ears is curved backwards with hairs ruffled out from other strange ears. Eyes shaped like a large walnut. For cats that have only been born for 3 to 5 days, these lovely ears will curl upwards and look very adorable. The kittens are very hyperactive and like to climb like other cats. With particularly cute personalities like being curled up lying obediently with the owner, or happily sleeping in a large bowl with a very tall wall, or breaking into the bathroom and playing with the shower. But they are very loyal, easy to get along with other animals and especially children. To their owners, they are very respectful, polite and very polite. This cat has a weight of about 4 to 5 kg. Twisted-eared cat is a healthy cat with few diseases, making it easy to keep. Having a twisted cat own owner is also the dream of so many people because the value of each cat of this breed is about VND15.5 -244 million / 1 child.

4. Bengal cat (Tiger tiger)

The Bengal cat, also known as the tiger tiger, is one of the most expensive cats in the world and is welcomed by many notorious giants and experts in the animal kingdom. The highlight of this cat is that its fur is striped like a tiger and its appearance is like a cute cheetah. They have a strong body, muscles, small legs but the feet are much bigger than other cats. Their fur is so smooth that you can stroke them all day without getting bored. Bengal cats are very intelligent and have a strong physique full of energy and high mobility. They are very friendly, funny and sociable with other animals. Like other cats, the Bengal Cat prefers to eat wet piles or dry pellets. You should feed them on a scientific diet and adequate nutrition to avoid obesity or malnutrition harmful to their health. Because of their liking to splash and splash and get dirty on people, you need to keep them away from water bodies such as toilets, bathrooms, toilets and regularly clean their bodies to avoid them. Infection, dirty for your house.

5. Egyptian cats

If you look at them for the first time, you will be attracted to the perfectly smooth feathers and wrinkles that look immature like a newborn bird. But the fact is not so, their skin is covered with extremely thin and fluffy hair, so keeping the body warm is impossible but the cat's sense of touch is very sensitive in all situations. Egyptian cats are especially cute because of their friendly, approachable, intelligent, astute and loyal character. They like to curl up in their owner's lap, like human cuddles, and especially enjoy sleeping with you. Contrary to their appearance, the Egyptian Cats are easy to care for, and they do not seem to have any intestinal or lung disease. But often skin diseases, so you pay special attention to their skin care. You should regularly plan on adding the necessary nutrients so that they have a reasonable meal to help develop your body comprehensively. The value of Egyptian Cats is usually around 7 to 13 million VND / head.

6. British cats are short-haired

Short-haired British cats will have different prices depending on the type of cat and their country and the lowest price is less than 3 million VND / 1 and the most expensive is up to 40 million VND / 1 child (excluding shipping costs) . The characteristic of British short-haired cats is that they are very thick, strong, strong and muscular. The body length is moderate, the legs are big and the round feet are cute, the fur of this cat is very smooth and smooth. For different types of British short-haired British cats, they will produce different colors but mostly we encounter yellowish brown, double, black, white, red .

This cat is very sociable, gentle personality with humans, likes to play, great with each other, obedient, fun and especially docile, eager to learn new things.

The short-haired British cats are easy to raise, not picky eaters, their main food is in the form of canned food. This cat is very inactive, so it is easy to become obese, so it is necessary to have a scientific eating plan for them and regularly stimulate them to play subjects related to physical activity. They live very long, maybe up to 10 years.

7. Long-haired British cats

Like the British Shorthair, they are from England, descended from the British Shorthair combined with the traditional long-haired Persian. They are similar in appearance to short-haired British cats, but with short British cat ears and a long and ruffled tail that looks very nice. Long-haired British cats are easy to keep, they can eat anything, but are lazy to exercise so feed them scientifically to avoid obesity that is harmful to their health. You should also clean them regularly especially sensitive areas such as ears, nose, eyes so they do not suffer from common diseases. With these cats, their value is about 1, 5 to 4 million VND depending on the species and their lifespan can be up to 12 years.

8. Persian cat - Persian cat face

Persian cats, also known as cat face, is one of the cats are very cute because of their lovely, lovely appearance. Persian cat prices usually range from 8 to 15 million. The dominant feature of this breed is that it has two long outer coats and a short thick undercoat. This cat sheds a lot of fur, so it will dirty your house and you have to clean it regularly, but they are mild in nature with all other animals, love to be cuddled by their owners and love to climb and run like any other cat breed. We can meet many kinds of Persian cats with different colors, such as cream color, milk coffee, white and red .

9. Siamese cat

Siamese cats were among the first breeds of the Eastern short-haired cat to be workers. They are slender, muscular and long, especially with a slightly pointed triangle snout. Siamese cats are especially close to humans. They like to attract the attention of their owners, love children and like to joke but a bit rough. With the first impression when you look at this Siamese cat is very smooth fur and has many different colors like seal gray, light blue, chocolate . Another noticeable point is that the eyes are colored. blue, glitter is very beautiful. Siamese cats imported from Thailand or Europe usually cost between $ 200 and $ 700 and this cat can live up to 20 years, adapting to the new environment quite quickly.

Thank you for taking the time to follow the article The popular cat breeds in Vietnam and do not forget to leave a comment below to contribute comments to the article.

You finished reading the article "The popular cat breed in Vietnam" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.