

The position of Griffin monster in the game Immortals Fenyx Rising

In the game Immortals Fenyx Rising, players have to destroy many different enemies to complete the quest, but hunting takes a lot of time because some monsters are quite rare to find and Griffin monster is one of the that number.

To help you speed up the quest, TipsMake will share with you the position of Griffin monster in Immortals Fenyx Rising.

In the open world Immortals Fenyx Rising, players can go anywhere from the start of the game. While this makes adventure exploration more fun and makes Immortals Fenyx Rising one of the best story games of 2020, it can also make it possible to find specific enemies or locations. a little bit difficult. And one of the hardest enemies to find is the monster Griffin.

Immortals Fenyx Rising introduced the bird-headed lion monster to players early on. Although Griffins often revive in the wild, it can be difficult to find one when players need them. There are a number of missions that require players to kill Griffin in order to complete. If you are desperate in the search for Griffin, go to the following locations.

The location to find the Griffin monster in the game Immortals Fenyx Rising

1. The starting area in the game

Although a few locations in the Golden Isle world changed during the update and release of the DLC A New God pack, players can still find Griffin monsters in some familiar places. For those who just started their Fenyx journey, there is at least one Griffin monster in the starting area. Griffin can be found guarding a chest just south of the starting island, south of the observatory. It is located on the last island, where the border between water and land is contiguous.

2. The Goddess of Wisdom

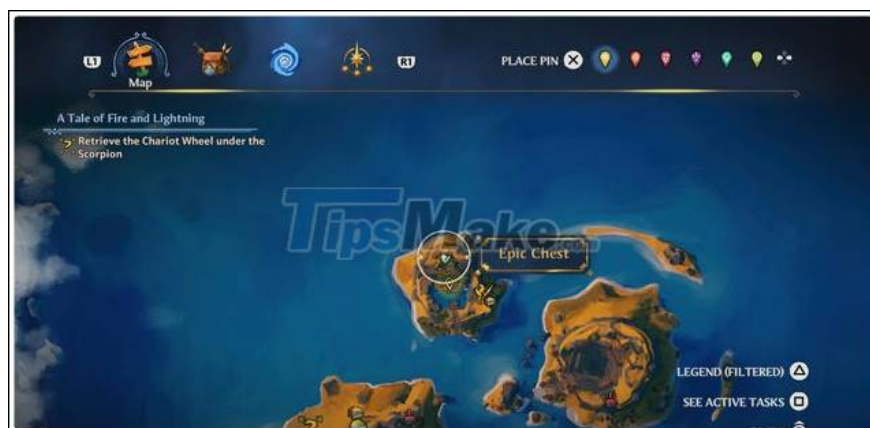

The second location is west of the Statue of Wisdom statue. This Griffin is guarding a vault. If the player has trouble finding it, wait until night falls and follow the dazzling west light of the statue. Sightseeing places always glow at night and that is one of the little secrets hidden in Fenyx Rising that few people notice.

Another Griffin monster also appears near the Statue of Wisdom, but on its northeast side. There is a chest located in the northeastern part of the Grove of Kleos, on a small plateau. Griffin is guarding that chest.

3. Forge Lands

Next, don't miss the north pole of the Forge Lands. Griffin appears near the coastline bordered by King's Peak and another spawn on the western side of the Forge Lands, under a giant cliff. While the player needs to upgrade Heavy Lifting to Herakles's Strength to get the Epic Chest there, they do not need it to kill Griffin who is guarding this chest.

And yet, the third Griffin in the Forge Lands is guarding the Shrine of Aither, just east of the second one present in the land. If a player is looking to seriously farm Griffin, then the best place to do so in the entire world of Fenyx is the Forge Lands. You can find at least 3 lion-headed monsters here and they also often revive.

These are the locations where you can definitely find the Griffin monster in Immortals Fenyx Rising. When encountering quests related to this monster, do not go far, but go straight to the above locations to complete the task as quickly as possible.
