

The secret of the city of the giant ancient people in the Amazon jungle

Many tribes of the Amazon of Ecuador circulated the legends of giants that once ruled the Earth before humans appeared. They claim that deep in the jungle in the Amazon is the ancient city of giants.

Many tribes of the Amazon of Ecuador circulated the legends of giants that once ruled the Earth before humans appeared. They claim that deep in the jungle in the Amazon is the ancient city of giants.

In 2012, a group of Ecuadorian adventurers went into the Amazon to find the strange project they had seen in the old photo. They were lucky to spot a megalithic rock pile on the small river bank. The stones are scattered, sprawled in the forest and on the river like artefacts.

Archaeological experts cannot determine who, which civilization created these stone structures and their dates. According to them, these artifact stones do not belong to any civilization ever known on Earth.

The area where archaeologists discovered these relics is where the tribes gathered to perform the ritual. According to them, it is a sacred place, circulating imaginary stories about the giant who built the ancient stone city.

According to researcher Bruce Fenton, the lost city remains of the giant remain intact and never discovered before.

Archaeologists have discovered some huge tools that ordinary people cannot use. They also discovered a large 80m² and 80m high pyramid . This work was built with hundreds of large stones weighing 2 tons. On top of the flat tower, contains dozens of artifacts.

"It is like a stone wall, an ancient town or square that forms a 60-degree angle - probably the roof of a larger pyramid. Many of the rocks with sharp edges are perfectly aligned, apparently due Human hand built " - Duverneui explorer from April to May 2013 said.

In 2013, the Ecuadorian Ministry of Culture sent an expedition to find out and conclude: "The rock rising above is a natural process, no wonder."

But researcher Bruce Fenton and his colleagues disagree with this conclusion. According to them, the crockery, stone artifacts, giant tools discovered here show that this site belongs to the great and intelligent ancient people.

Even researchers have found that between megalithic masses is a hardening substance similar to cement, concrete or some glass materials.

Many archaeologists now risk their lives going into the Amazon to find solutions to their giants and ancient cities.

You finished reading the article "The secret of the city of the giant ancient people in the Amazon jungle" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.