

The suffering that only those who have access to understand, now have a way to solve it thoroughly

Glass keeps getting blurry when you eat hot food? Whoever wears glasses, immediately learn this tip! Extremely miraculous!

Most people with nearsightedness, and wearing glasses all feel very uncomfortable with their glasses when they have to eat hot items such as shrimp noodles, hot pot even if it's just breathing, the glasses are also blurred by the steam. So, every time we have to remove the glasses to dry the steam on the glass but then it doesn't come back, the glass continues to blur, so people just want to "go crazy".

At that time, you only wish to return to the time for better eye care so that your eyes will not get close to having to wear these uncomfortable eyeglasses or at least have some miraculous glasses with wipers like a car wiper to help you right now.

But don't worry that your wish will come true, you don't have to live with the annoyance of steam rising to blur the glass, but you don't need the car wipers. All you need is hand sanitizer and soft cotton towel. It sounds incredible and amazing, so see this tutorial article.

1. The note when wearing contact lenses
2. 15 difficult to say only those who wear glasses close to understand
3. Unintentional habits make your eyes grow more and more

Step 1:

You prepare a clean and soft cotton towel to clean the glass. Then pour a little handwashing liquid on the cotton towel.

Step 2:

Begin to wipe the towel with hand sanitizer on the glass, wipe both the inside and the outside of the glass continuously.

Step 3:

After cleaning, do not wash the glass under the water, but use this towel to dry and clean all the hand sanitizer on the glass.

Now enjoy the results, with this simple way you can comfortably eat shrimp or hotpot noodles without worrying about the steam rising up to blur the glass too!

Good luck!
