

The way to 'hunt down' hidden messages in Facebook Messenger

Facebook Messenger will automatically hide the messages of strangers sent to you, especially in the form of spam messages that will not have any new message notifications on the application.

Facebook Messenger application brings a comfortable chat space with friends from voice chat, video call. Besides, you can also play chess on Messenger or become a good basketball handler when playing basketball game Messenger. The Facebook Messenger works completely independent of Facebook, without affecting your Facebook activity and still being able to read the message.

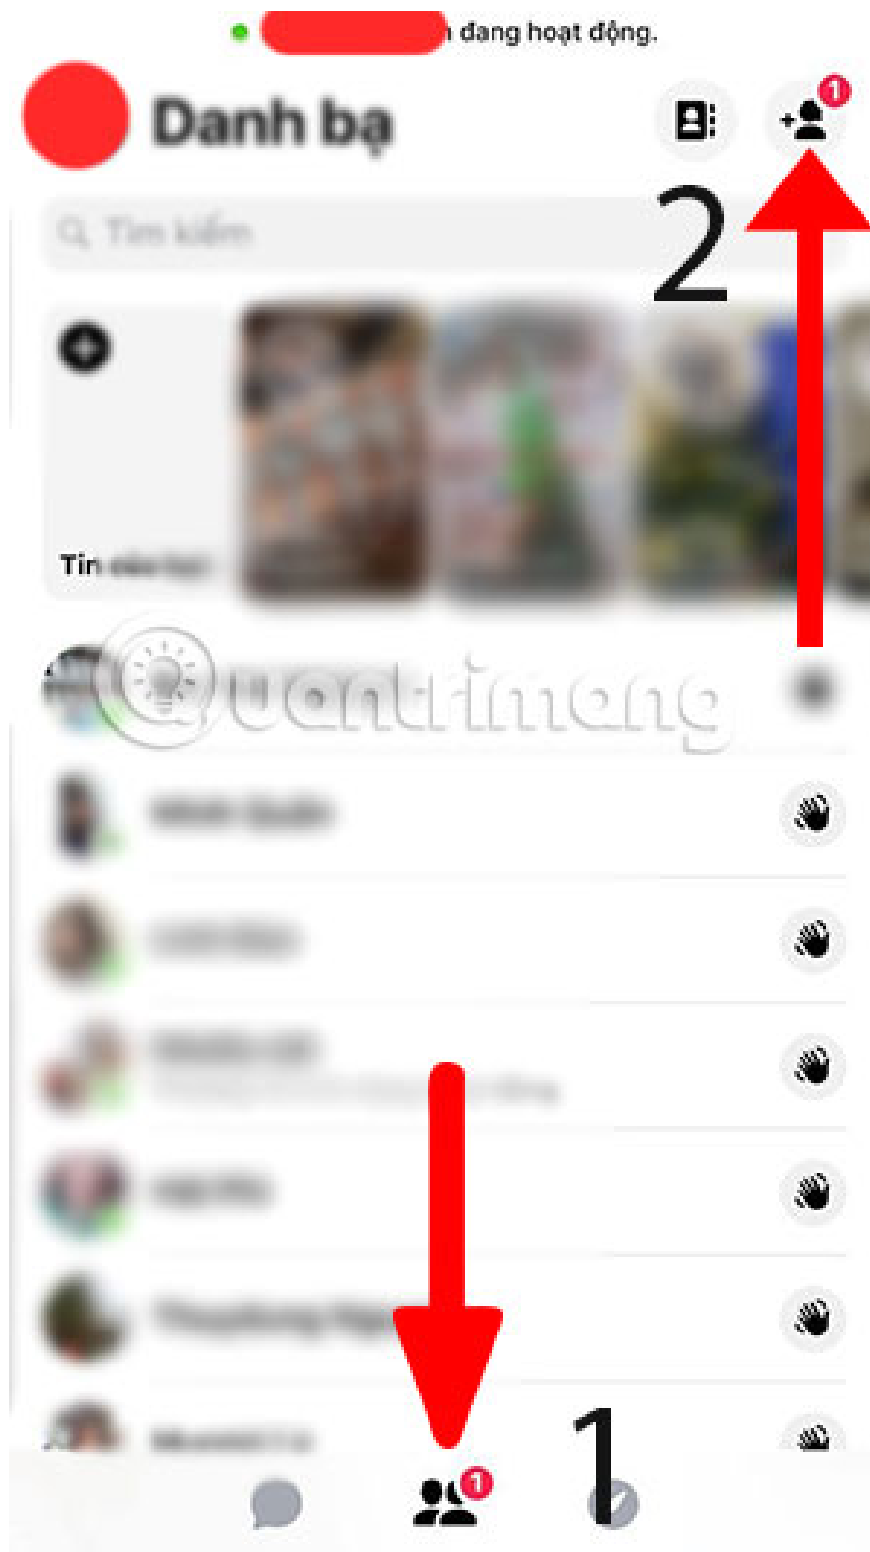

In addition to the platform version for the phone, users can have Facebook Messenger chat right on the computer in How to use Facebook Messenger Web version. The use of Messenger is also not disturbing when you sometimes have to block spam messages on Facebook. When blocked, the messages contained in the new friend list appear in the directory and there are notifications. There are other types of messages that Facebook suspects that spam will automatically go to Message Requests.
