

The world's fastest badminton shot is 565 km/h, faster than a Formula 1 car

Satwiksairaj Rankireddy, an Indian-born badminton player, has a shot that makes it fly at an unbelievable speed, up to 565 km/h, breaking the Guinness record that stood for 10 years.

If you don't know, the fastest tennis shot is only 263 km/h and the highest recorded speed of a Formula 1 car is 397.48 km/h.

Satwiksairaj Rankireddy set the world record for the fastest badminton shot by a player on April 14, 2023, breaking the previous record of 493 km/h, set by Malaysian badminton player, Mr. Tan Boon Heong.

Malaysian athlete Pearly Tan, with a shuttle speed of 438 km/h, set a women's record.

Two athletes Satwiksairaj Rankireddy and Pearly Tan set the record in strictly controlled conditions, performed at the Yonex Tokyo Factory located in Soka, Saitama, Japan.

Below is a list of some other sports speed records set by athletes:

1. Fastest badminton shot: 565 km/h
2. Fastest F1 car speed: 397.483 km/h
3. Fastest golf swing: 349.38 km/h
4. Fastest tennis serve: 263 km/h
5. Fastest ice hockey shot: 177.5 km/h
6. Fastest baseball pitch: 170.3 km/h
7. Fastest soccer kick: 129 km/h
8. Fastest table tennis swing: 116 km/h

You finished reading the article "The world's fastest badminton shot is 565 km/h, faster than a Formula 1 car" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.