

These are the most unique and heterogeneous PC case cases at Computex 2019, a case made by Vietnamese modder also contributed

Here are the most exclusive and heterogeneous PC case covers on display at Computex 2019. There will definitely be a case in it that makes you 'ring the ring'.

Here are the most unique and unique PC case covers on display at Computex 2019, please watch. Surely you will be amazed at the creation of the modder and will 'vibrate the ring' by one of them.

The Modder nicknamed "Ice Freeze" brings Computex 2019 a unique case with a design inspired by the Beijing National Stadium (also known as the Bird's Nest Stadium) with the Olympics logo attached. between. Components inside this case include: Intel Core i7-8700K CPU, ASUS ROG STRIX Z390-I GAMING motherboard and 1000W Antec source.

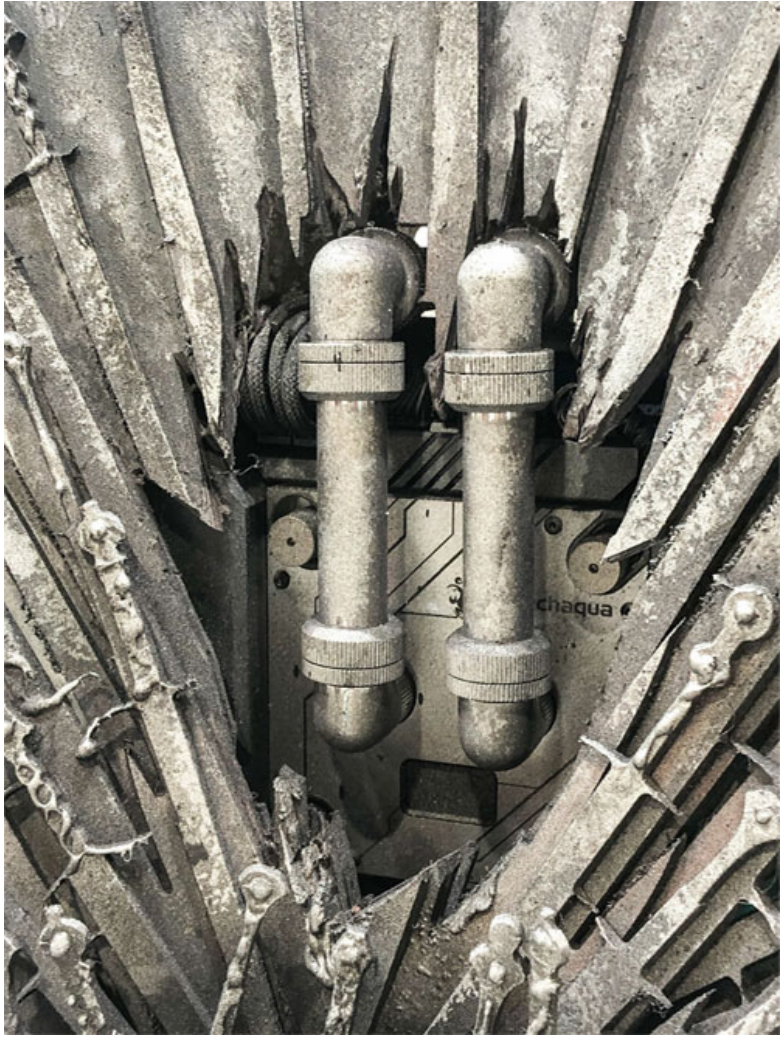

A Game of Thrones theme case of the "YJ Mod" modder is on display at Computex 2019.

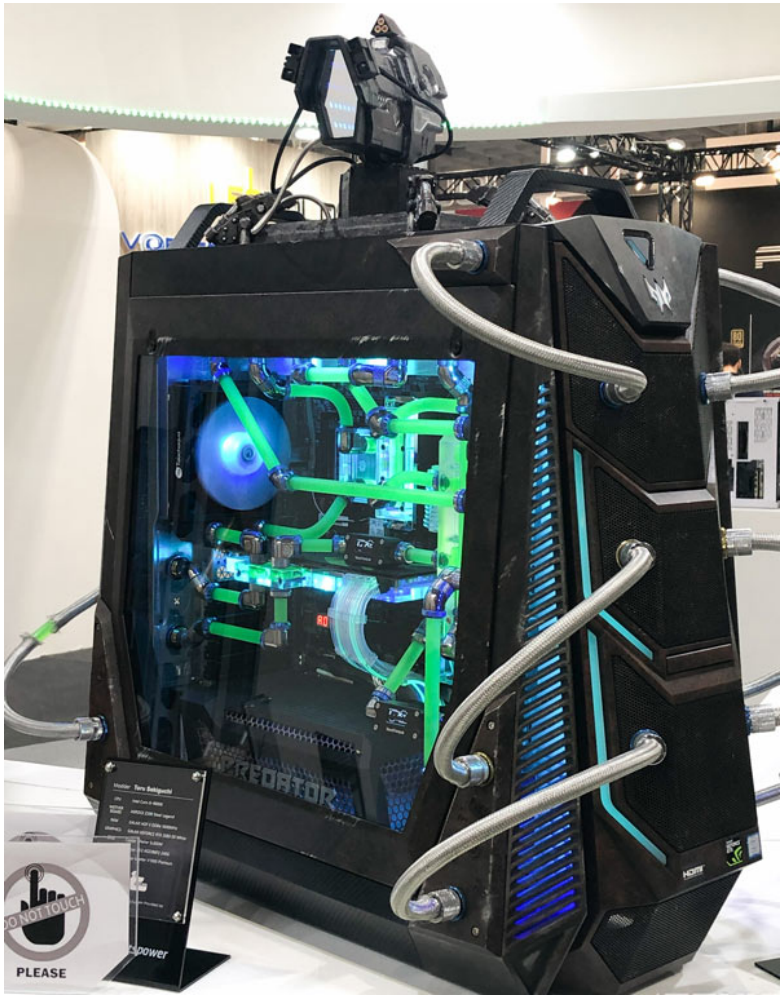

Jengki Wmp modder from Thailand is the author of a unique case with a fake gun at the top, it can even rotate around. Inside this case is the Core i7-8700K chip, the NVIDIA GTX 1080Ti GPU, the FSP 850W source . with a neatly arranged green water cooling system.

Case cover style astronaut, contained within it is MSI Z390I GAMING EDGE AC mainboard, RAM GSKILL Trident Z and MSI GeForce GTX 1070 Aero GPU. This is the work of the "Cap-Ten" modder.

The impressive feature of this case is the hologram image of a virtual singer inside.

