At 0:00 tonight (September 18), Apple will release the official version of iOS 12 for global users. Here are some things you need to do first on your device to be able to live on the new iOS 12 without any problems.

Check if the device you are using is in the iOS 12 device list

With iOS 12 update, Apple focuses on improving performance, not adding many new features, so it will support a lot of devices, including iPhone 5s launched in 2013.

1. The detailed list can be tracked in the 'List of devices upgraded to iOS 12'.

iOS 12 beta tests on older Apple devices all showed significantly faster boot and application loading speeds than iOS 11.4.1.
