

This is an Apple Watch model with an AirPods plug attached to prevent it from falling, priced at nearly 700,000 VND / set

AirBand is not too expensive and offers many attractive promotions, but the question is whether this product is really necessary for the user's AirPods.

One of the most annoying problems that AirPods users often encounter is accidentally dropping their precious headphones without even knowing it. That is also the reason why a series of inventions of 'protecting AirPods' were born, there are quite practical and useful products, but there are also items that look reasonable but do not know if there is enough convincing to buy and use. or not.

AirBand is one such product: Helping users attach two AirPods to their Apple Watch, ensuring they will never fall or be lost. Specifically, this is a strap that is compatible with the Apple smartwatch model, but is designed to add a bracket (actually two holes) right below the screen so that users can install AirPods on (AirPods Pro is also).

AirPods Pro

AirBand possesses many promising features: Anti-slip, high-quality silicone, fit and comfortable for users, up to 4 different color versions and can work well with AirPods Pro.

It can be said that this product is quite meaningless in both form and content, losing the inherent beauty of the Apple Watch. On the other hand, AirPods can only appear in 2 locations: On the user's ear, or in the charging box. When not in use, we will put it in the charging box immediately to recharge the battery, not have to let it get lost on your wrist at all. In addition, the AirPods charging box is also quite compact, can easily be stored in a pocket, pocket or briefcase, not so cumbersome.

Explaining this problem, Matt Youngblood, the author of the above strap model, said its main purpose is to use in temporary cases, when users do not listen to music but do not want to store AirPods and boxes. charging. If left untouched, it can be lost at any time, so it is best to attach it to the wrist for safety.

The introduction video for AirBand shows up to 7749 how this watch strap became effective for users.

In the demonstration video, Matt also mentioned some cases where his product may be useful to users. For example, when going to cafe while listening to music while working, work comes to stress, we often have the habit of removing headphones to be able to concentrate more. This is a temporary action, not many people will take the effort to remove the charger box to store AirPods at all, so it is best to attach it to the Apple Watch for support. When everything is settled, we can easily put it back on.

In addition, when jogging, we do not bring too much furniture, costumes are also very simple. Therefore, it is difficult to find a place to store these headphones. And so the Airband naturally became the savior no one expected.

Currently, Matt is calling to raise this product on Kickstarter with the goal of $ 10,000, and has now earned more than $ 4,600. If all goes well, you can start shipping to users from April here. The price for AirBand is 30 USD / wire (20 - 25 USD for early customers). In addition, Matt also introduced a lot of attractive promotional packages such as Hat Trick package - buy 3 units, optional colors, for $ 70, save 20 USD; or Ten Pack - buy 10 pieces, color options, cost 250 USD and save 50 USD.
