

This is Xiaomi's virtual assistant, Xiao AI

Xiaomi has just released a video with English subtitles introducing Xiao AI, a built-in virtual assistant inside Xiaomi phones.

Xiaomi has just released a video with English subtitles introducing Xiao AI, a built-in virtual assistant inside Xiaomi phones.

It can be seen that Xiao AI is quite similar to Siri and Google Assistant but it is clearly aimed at the Chinese market with services like WeChat .

According to Xiaomi representative, Xiao AI was uploaded to Mi Mix 2S to be used on other Xiaomi phones when updating the Chinese version of MIUI. .

Currently, Xiao AI is not available in India or any other country besides China. Although they have announced a partnership with Microsoft to integrate Cortana with Mi AI Speaker speakers, it will not appear on phones.

Xiaomi phones in India can use Google Assistant, which is not available in China but available in India and also in English.
