This challenge is definitely not easy for new players because of the chaotic level of the battlefield. This article will provide tips for playing Vampire Survivors to help everyone clear the game.

Tips to know when playing Vampire Survivors

Using the keyboard

For many PC games, it is very convenient to use the mouse to move the character. However, Vampire Survivors, only the character moves and the weapon fires on its own, and either randomly targets or attacks the nearest enemy. Since gamers only need one hand to play this game, using the keyboard (WASD keys) will help more. Most experienced players will tell beginners that using the keyboard is more intuitive than using the mouse.

Learn about weapons, accessories, and characters

These are the 3 most important factors that create success or failure when playing Vampire Survivors. New players should spend a few turns trying out different weapons. People can refer to the Evolved Weapon Upgrade Guide in Vampire Survivors for a better understanding of weapons and accessories.

Accessories are items that provide passive abilities, like making the character move faster or increasing the damage of a weapon. Players should experiment with different weapon-accessory combos.

In addition, gamers also need to pay attention to the abilities of each character because they will be suitable for different purposes. For example, players who want to gain experience faster should use Imelda Belpaese; If you want the weapon to shoot more bullets, you should use Gennaro Belpaese or Mortaccio. The characters also have different starting weapons. Read the article How to unlock characters in Vampire Survivors to understand the characters' stats and abilities.

Use PowerUps

After a level, the player has the opportunity to use gold to power up, which is accessed from the title screen. Power-ups have the same effect as accessories, but they are permanent bonuses that affect all characters.

Players need to focus on buffing up to improve the weapon's damage, duration, and projectile count. Cooldown reduction is another important PowerUp. So, don't forget to buy PowerUp to increase the amount of experience a character receives, helping to have a higher chance of survival in the game.

Constantly on the move

In Vampire Survivors, the player should move constantly. Enemies appear along the sides of the screen and are constantly moving towards the character, so it is easy to get stuck.

When seeing the enemy's opening, everyone should not hesitate because the opportunity to attack will disappear after only a few seconds. Also, don't focus on the character, instead, maintain a sweeping view of the battlefield while playing.

Time tracking

A timer will appear in each game and gamers need to pay attention to it. This is because there will be many fluctuations every minute, for example, enemies appear more and more powerful.

There are events that happen according to the scenario that gamers need to keep in mind. In Mad Forest, a circle of carnivorous plants or skeletons enters the screen at 10 minutes. At 15 minutes in the Inlaid Library, tons of fast-flying Medusa heads start appearing. Finally, the 25 minute mark is when the boss of the game screen will appear.

Take advantage of the battlefield

Although constantly moving is recommended, gamers also need to be careful not to move around the battlefield. Use the simple logic of the enemy to move straight towards the character to counter them. Try to gather enemies together so that when your weapon activates, there will be a large group of enemies to be defeated.

Focus on a few weapons

Many players tend to choose new weapons and accessories as they level up. This can lead to a character's death around 15 minutes. Better, gamers should focus on upgrading a few weapons, rather than having a full low-level arsenal.

Doing this will get the character ready to kill the stronger enemies that start appearing around 10 minutes. A character with 6 low level weapons will be defeated at some point. The first weapons that players should focus on are those surrounding the character such as King Bible, Garlic or Whip.
