The higher the level, the better Elden Ring gamers will be able to use the better equipment and here are the tips to level up quickly.

Recently, Elden Ring was officially launched and became a craze in the world gaming community. FromSoftware's latest super product has received many winged compliments along with a rain of absolute 10 points that few games can do.

Currently, Elden Ring gamers are looking for ways to level up quickly to explore the story and become eligible to use more powerful equipment. However, because this is a game in the Souls series, it will not be easy for gamers who have never experienced Dark Souls or Bloodborne. Similar to souls, Elden Ring uses a new currency called runes and works with similar mechanics.

Convert items into runes

There are a number of items in the Elden Ring that can increase the player's runes or improve the number of runes received. If you take advantage of these items, the player can soon receive a huge amount of runes.

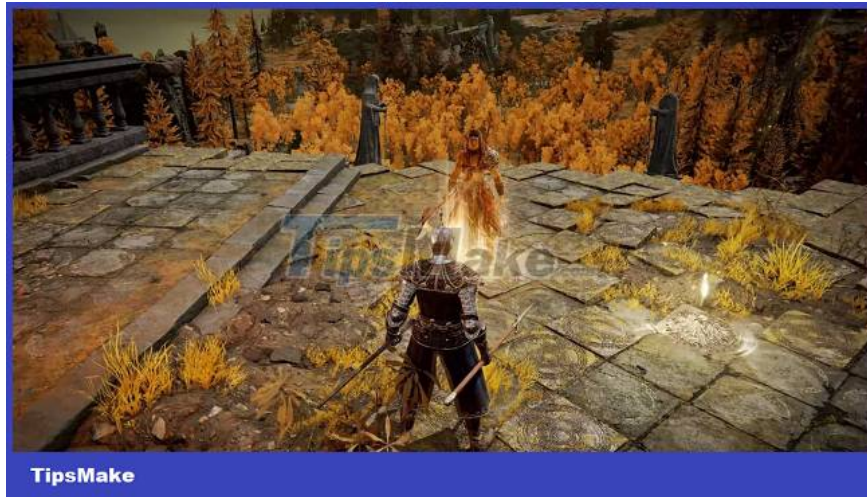

- Gold-Pickled Fowl Foot: Increases the amount of runes that enemies drop.
- Sacrificial Twig: Helps the player to keep the amount of runes in possession after being killed.
- Fingerfolk's Rune: Gives the player a certain amount of runes instantly.
- Remembrances: Similar to Fingerfolk's Rune but can only be obtained after defeating bosses in the Elden Ring.

Join Multiplayer mode

Participating in Multiplayer mode is also an extremely effective way for gamers to quickly collect runes in the Elden Ring. Accordingly, when coming to a new world, the enemies that the player has defeated will be 'revived' and will also drop runes like before. Instead of farming runes, gamers should also help the owner of that world to overcome the dark dungeons and then defeat the bosses together.

Fight in PvP mode

In addition to cooperating with other players in Multiplayer mode, gamers can also defeat the players they face in PvP to collect runes. Although this process is somewhat arduous and easy to defeat, the amount of runes that the player can obtain through this activity is very large.
