

Top 10 most popular browsers, Google Chrome tops, Second IE

Recently, the NetMarketShare information site conducted a market assessment of popular PC browsers and launched the most popular list of browsers.

Recently, the NetMarketShare information site conducted a market assessment of popular PC browsers and launched the most popular list of browsers.

The results show that Google Chrome still leads the browser with a market share of 61%, although it has fallen a bit compared to the previous but still outstripped other competitors. Just behind Google Chrome is Internet Explorer with 12.3%, Firefox with 10.17% and Microsoft Edge accounting for 4.45% of the browser market share.

Browser	Share
Chrome	61.69%
Internet Explorer	12.30%
Firefox	10.17%
Edge	4.45%
Safari	3.99%
QQ	1.72%
Sogou Explorer	1.60%
Opera	1.50%
UC Browser	0.80%
Yandex	0.72%

Recently, Microsoft released Windows 10 April 2018 version with many new features and promoted the promotion of Microsoft Edge browser on PC, Android and iOS versions but still could not improve the browser market share. . Currently, the outstanding features of Microsoft Edge compared with other browsers such as the synchronization feature on devices, help users on iOS and Android review the browsing history on computers and smartphones is still Microsoft continues to grow and introduce to users.

See more:

1. If not using Chrome and Firefox, these are alternative browsers
2. 5 web browsers support Dark Mode / Night Mode for Android phones
3. Please use and experience Photon Browser, the Chromium kernel browser developed by Vietnamese programmers
4. Veil: anonymous browser deletes all traces, safer than Tor

You finished reading the article "Top 10 most popular browsers, Google Chrome tops, Second IE" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.

---