1. Sony Fontopia Headset MDR-E9LP : Superior sound

Sony is one of the 5 well-known brands of headphones and at the same time referring to Sony also refers to quality Japanese products. So you are more reassured about your quality, right? Sony Fontopia MDR-E9LP earbuds have very eye-catching, dynamic and youthful colors that are suitable for today's young people. With a long cable, the Sony MDR-E9LP offers convenience in exercise, moving activities or on field trips. Despite being a cheap product line (about 185 thousand dong), Sony MDR-E9LP has very good sound with strong bass, clear and vivid treble sound. The special thing, which many people cannot ignore with this headset, is when the purchase will be accompanied by two ear pads.

This is a cheap headset from a famous Sony brand.

The point that some people are not satisfied with the Sony MDR-E9LP music headset is probably because it has not equipped the microphone and the volume control button, so it is sometimes inconvenient.

3. Sennheiser CX Headset 213: Super good listening to music, sad, Bolero

One more product from Sennheiser brand that we should care about if we intend to buy a earbuds, especially those who like to listen to deep and deep music. Although the price is slightly higher than the above two headsets (about 449 thousand VND), Sennheiser CX 213 is still within the price range that can be purchased. The headset comes with a soft and soft silicon ear cushions, good sound insulation helps eliminate ambient noise, bringing a more pure music space.

Sennheiser CX 213 is one of 3 favorite in-ear headphones.

Regarding the design, Sennheiser CX 213 music headphones are quite eye-catching and polished. Like Sony MDR-E9LP, Sennheiser CX 213 earbuds are quite long, so it is convenient for you to exercise or put them in your pocket just walking and listening to music. At CX 213 headphones, there are also 2 pads, which help you choose the right pads for your ears. According to the evaluation, when wearing long wearing CX 213 still does not cause pain and heat in the ears, especially praised for this product line by sound quality in the form of 'peak' when listening to bass, deep and Bolero songs.

However, the point except unfortunately in Sennheiser CX 213 is without adjusting the volume and Micro, if you love wearing the ear to listen to stories, you should think a little bit should choose this headset okay.
