

Top 3 personal oxygen aids at home for families with sick people find out the Personal oxygen respirator at home for families with sick people

How will you handle if there are members in your family who are required by the doctor to use breathing apparatus at home? The solution to this problem is a personal oxygen generator - a small device that helps patients replenish oxygen at home without having to go to a hospital or a medical center. Let Quantrimang explore the personal oxygen ventilator products that are trusted by Vietnamese consumers through the sharing below.

Personal oxygen respirator at home for families with sick people

1. What is a personal oxygen generator?
2. Top personal oxygen ventilator at home for families with sick people
 1. Owgels ZY-603 oxygen generator
 2. Yuwell 8F-3AW oxygen generator
 3. Haier multifunctional oxygen generator LP-1L-1Y
3. Some notes when using personal oxygen ventilator at home

1. What is a personal oxygen generator?

Personal oxygen generators (also known as mini oxygen units at home) are small sized oxygen generators suitable for household use. This breathing apparatus acts as an air purifier, providing oxygen with a purity of 90% or more. Families with sick people who are appointed to use a ventilator by the doctor can use the device at home without having to go to medical centers to use a dedicated oxygen generator.

Patients who need to use oxygen generators include: Patients with stroke must be confined to the bed; people with heart failure, lung failure, respiratory diseases, . Especially, before the complicated course of dangerous epidemics such as COVID-19, dengue fever, ., families should actively equip themselves with oxygen generators in case there are members in the home who need oxygen support.

2. Top personal oxygen ventilator at home for families with sick people

In the next section, Quantrimang introduces a list of personal oxygen generators for you to consider which products are suitable for your family.

Owgels ZY-603 oxygen generator

Owgels ZY-603 Oxygen Ventilator is a 3-liter home-care medical device, suitable for the needs of families. This breathing apparatus has many advantages such as: Low price; have low oxygen purity indicator light, high temperature warning mode; LCD screen shows working time, timer clear, handy for users.

Owgels ZY-603 works quietly, smoothly, does not make too loud noise, does not affect patients as well as those around them. Machine capable of generating oxygen source reaches 93% purity, rugged chassis, made of fireproof, anti-rust material, safe for users.

Yuwell 8F-3AW oxygen generator

Yuwell 8F-3AW personal oxygen ventilator is a small sized medical device with the ability to provide pure oxygen from 90% or more, very suitable for families with relatives only doctors I need to perform a breathing aid at home.

The Yuwell 8F-3AW oxygen generator supports an LCD display screen and a convenient oxygen flow knob, so you can easily control and customize the gas generated from the device. This Yuwell oxygen ventilator also integrates many advanced features, which are beneficial to the health of users such as the ability to create negative ions, purify air, balance moisture, .

Currently the product is being offered on the market with the selling price: VND 8.6 million.

Haier multifunctional oxygen generator LP-1L-1Y

Haier LP-1L-1Y is a useful home oxygen device for the home. It integrates many outstanding features that other types of oxygen generating equipment on the market do not have. These features include:

1. The machine is capable of producing oxygen with high purity (from 30% to 90%) with flow from 1 to 5 liters of gas / minute. This device is useful for people suffering from respiratory diseases, heart failure, lung failure, need oxygen support at home.
2. The device helps the aerosol to diffuse liquid particles, dispersing the active substance of the drug in the form of fog. This makes the drug deeper into the respiratory tract of the patient.
3. Haier LP-1L-1Y also integrates negative ion generation feature to help kill bacteria, purify the air, improve the body's resistance.

In addition, this breathing device of Haier also has a timer from 30 minutes to 6 hours; The case is designed with high quality plastic material; Compact design, easy to carry around; Smooth operation, no loud noise; low power consumption; .

3. Some notes when using personal oxygen ventilator at home

When using a personal oxygen ventilator at home, there are a few things to keep in mind:

1. You should consult a doctor or specialist before using an oxygen generator. Because if the device is used with inappropriate oxygen levels, the patient may experience negative health effects.
2. Oxygen ventilators should be placed in well-ventilated areas, 20 to 30cm away from the wall. In particular, you need to place the device away from places of fire or heat sources. Oxygen which comes into contact with heat sources can cause fire and danger to users.
3. During the use of the device, you need to closely monitor the expression of the ill person. If the patient is experiencing shortness of breath, shortness of breath, you should stop using the device and immediately consult a doctor or a medical professional.

You finished reading the article "Top 3 personal oxygen aids at home for families with sick people" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.
