Some teams are easy to build and effective in the Truth Arena version 9.14

Version 9.14 Truth Arena has marked the appearance of the Rankings section and players are trying to climb higher ranks in this new game mode.

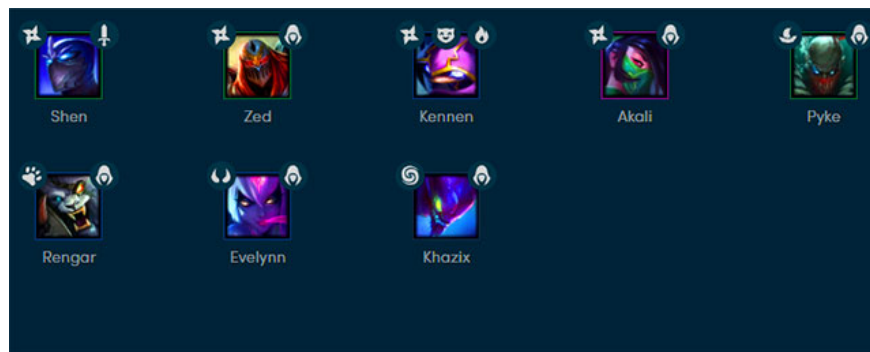

And of course, after each version, Riot Games will make modifications to balance the game more than the previous version. To be able to build teams that can climb easily based on what has changed. ## Assassin lineup + Ring of Truth School

Players will fight completely based on Ninja's huge additional damage and critical attacks of the Assassins when deciding to build this formation. In addition, Kennen and Shen are the two generals who are able to retain their opponents quite well with their moves.

What you should be aware of when building this formation is the lack of attack speed and energy so that important generals like Pyke can stun the enemy. Or Katarina with wide damage, if you have enough energy to unleash a continuous move, you can absolutely win easily.

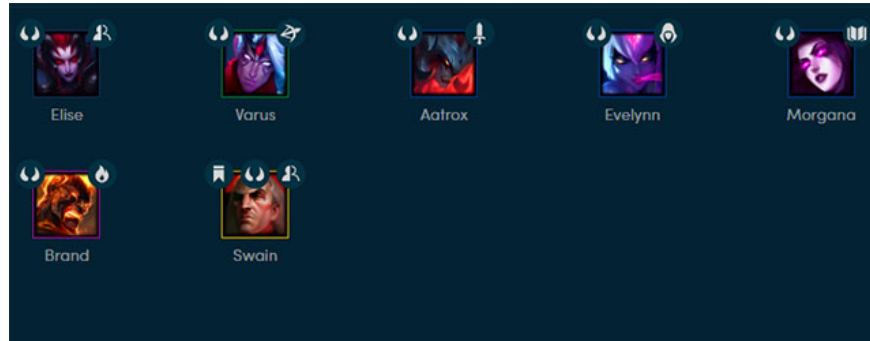

There is a trick that few people know when building this team, that is if you are in level 6-7 and have 6 assassins (both waiting and chess board), let all go to the field. Fight and don't regret the Ninja buff.

If you already own 6 Assassins, losing a little of Ninja's power doesn't affect your squad much. Only Akali and Zed will lose a bit of damage, the remaining members of your squad will inflict much greater damage.

Devil squad The Truth Arena

This is the race favored by many gamers because it has been Riot Games buff compared to the previous version. The demonic generals themselves have a superior power compared to other races.

In addition to just building a Devil squad, players can combine different formations with this lineup. Typically, the Master (Kennen, Brand) or the Sword (Aatrox) or even the Archer (Ashe).

But Aatrox is currently a very strong general compared to the rest of the game when the Strong Force - Strong system is also strong. Even players can give Aatrox a genuine tanker because the general himself has a high amount of health.

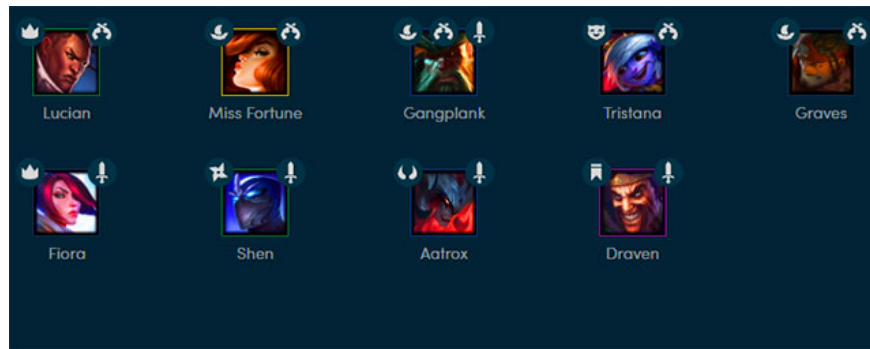

So if you have seen Aatrox appear, you should pick it right away, because the guy can carry the team to bring you closer to victory.

Lineup of Swordsman + The Arena Gunner Truth

A squad is quite popular because team members are easy to find, but very effective at the present time. This is also the formation that many high ranking gamers believe in and put into rating.

You can buy this team easily because the generals are quite cheap. Except for Aatrox and Gangplank, the remaining generals only have 1-2 gold. Moreover, raising the whole team to 2 stars is quite easy.

Gunner synergies interact quite well with items that have a controlling effect on attacks such as Curved Sword, Red Charm, Swords. If you have Gangplank, you will have both the nasty effects of the Gunner and more close. High trade from the Swordsman.

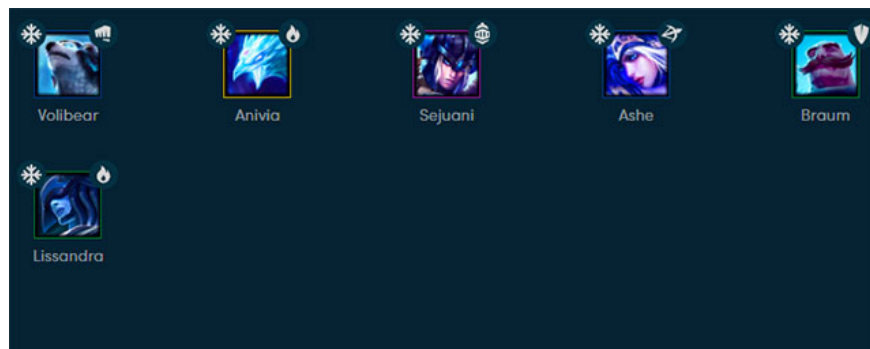

Although the price is cheap and often used at the beginning of the game, you still don't need to worry about the later period. Because the Sword Team + Gunner lineup keeps the power evenly over time.

Also if you have Draven, Miss Fortune or Yasuo, the strength of this formation will be raised to new heights. If it is more convenient, Darkin can be used to add a Devil combo to Aatrox, so this will be an extremely annoying team when having the Gunner attack multiple targets and burn quite a bit of team power. enemy.

The formation revolves around General Volibear

This is a special squad because the entire team in the team is built based on a major influence, it's Volibear. This is a general that can attack multiple targets at the same time and the damage is also great thanks to the Thunder Claw skill.

Even this skill applies the effect to the attack. As a result, Volibear has become one of the most influential factors that anyone can compare with, including Aatrox.

With the Gladiator and the Ice System, Volibear often revolves around two modes of play that combine with Gladiators to create a line of buffaloes, heavily controlled, and damaged by Volibear.

As for Bing, the ability to stun the opponent to freeze will cause many teams to be afraid.

It is a number of teams used by many high rank gamers in the Truth Arena version 9.14. Choose for yourself any squad and see how effective they are in the Truth Arena.
