

Top 5 best gaming keyboards 2020

Which 2020 gaming keyboards are dominating the market? Let's take a look at premium models and the latest in technology.

We all know that if you want to plow a smooth PC game, you must invest in a full set from PC to monitor, mouse and keyboard. So what are the hottest options in the 2020 gaming keyboard world?

1. Logitech G Pro X mechanical keyboard

This mechanical keyboard has been around for a while but is still selling and is one of the flagship products for Logitech's gaming accessory line. Logitech G Pro X is made of premium plastic and special Switch keys can be removed, replaced, and swapped easily.

The TKL-style keyboard is significantly more compact than many of the more massive conventional gaming keyboards. Of course, it also has the signature lighting system of gaming accessories. You can change the keyboard color to your liking through the own software, Logitech HUB G. In terms of bounce and customization, there's no question that this product can cater to even professional esports players.

2. Razer Huntsman Elite - 2020 high-end gaming keyboard for all needs

The Razer Huntsman Elite is also an option that has been released for 2 years and is still not outdated. Especially when typing, the feeling is not the same as usual. You can slide the keys very lightly, very smoothly because there are no copper leaves below the keys. It can receive 10 key commands simultaneously. This product is suitable for plowing almost all types of games. The keyboard life is also terrible: 100 million clicks.

Design is also the main attraction of this keyboard. It's bold in Razer colors: cool and powerful. On the familiar black tone is the high-end underglow LED system. The keyboard edges are also illuminated, creating a bright space in the dark. With exclusive Razer Chroma technology, you can customize the keyboard lights in a choice of up to 16.8 million colors.

3. Corsair K95 keyboard

Corsair K95 has a full layout design full of traditional 110 keys. Of course, it also has the necessary quick keys of existing gaming keyboards. The palm rest design is simple but very useful during game plowing. If you feel entangled, you can remove the armrest.

In the high-end segment, Corsair K95 is made from top-of-the-line durable material, guaranteed not to fade after many years. The 16.8 million-color RGB LED system is customizable like every rival, but is said to give a pleasant, enough, not too 'ostentatious' light. The keyboard connector is a standard USB so it can be integrated into any computer.

4. Kingston HyperX Alloy Elite RGB keyboard

The next mechanical keyboard on the list of 2020 gaming keyboards worth buying comes from the well-known Kingston brand name for quality and durability. The typing feeling is especially sharp and sure, although the design is quite gentle and elegant. The LED light thus also creates a softer look.

This keyboard has its own HyperX NGenuity software to customize it for your users. Not only the basic LED color correction, the app allows us to do a lot of customization: create features for each button, turn off certain keys when entering game mode to avoid mistakenly pressing, . This product is suitable for playing. titles like Moba, RTS and FPS.

5. Logitech G913 keyboard

Logitech G913 looks completely different from the keyboards you would normally see: ultra-thin, modern, trendy and unique. Although the key travel is short, the typing feeling is very good, sharp and does not make a strong noise.

With half the thickness of a regular keyboard, the Logitech G913 offers great flexibility. Plus, it's made of super light material so its weight is as small as thickness. Covered above is strange and luxurious scratched aluminum. To serve the need of travel, the keyboard can be switched to wireless mode with the rechargeable battery as bluetooth keyboard.

When turned on the LED system, Logitech G913 even more impressive. Every detail, the bulb has a high sophistication. This lighting system is capable of synchronizing and creating effects that are compatible with the sounds and effects in the game very interesting.

The gaming keyboards in 2020 listed above are all desirable choices for every gamer.
