Tape has many advantages, such as:

1. Stun is very good because most of its skills freeze the opponent.
2. Moves well due to the ability to skate.
3. Can attack multiple targets.
4. Very good ranged attack
5. Hunt for bounty, farm well.
6. Great combo potential.

Ice fruit also has 4 skills including:

The Z key, called Ice Spear > Storm, requires 1 mastery and a B+ rating for damage.

1. (Not Awakened) The player fires a volley of ice shards that damage enemies. (Do not break Haki if it does not touch the ground).
2. (Awakened) The player fires a storm, which moves at a slow speed towards the cursor. When it comes into contact with an enemy, it slowly deals damage and the enemy is stunned for a few seconds. This skill can sometimes break the opponent's Haki.

The X key, called Super Ice > Frozen Rising, requires 25 mastery and also ranks B+ in damage.

1. (Not Awakened) The user unleashes a small stream of ice that damages and knocks anyone hit by it.
2. (Awakened) The user unleashes a massive stream of ice, dealing a knockback and damaging anyone hit.

The C key, called Ice Bird > Ice Dragon, requires 50 proficiency and an A rating for damage.

1. (Not Awakened) The user creates a bird out of ice and throws it at the mouse pointer, freezing players hit. Explodes on contact. Freeze time scaling is based on how long the projectile traveled before impact. Need good targeting skills. Does not break the enemy's Haki.
2. (Awakened) The user launches a large, high-speed ice dragon into the air, which then swoops down in the direction of the cursor, damaging and freezing the opponent. Does not break the enemy's Haki.

The V key, called Ice Age > Absolute Zero, requires 100 mastery and also ranks A in damage.

1. (Not Awakened) Turns the ground to ice, freezing and damaging anyone who steps on it. Usually used by people who use swords and guns as their primary combo launch skill.
2. (Awakened) The user unleashes a medium to large wave of ice around the player, freezing everyone within its radius and dealing damage.

2. Good for low level
3. High combining potential
4. Good Hitboxes
5. Moving pretty fast
6. High damage on awakening.

Sand has five skills which are:

The Z key, called Desert Sword > Desert Scythe, requires 1 mastery and B+ rated damage

1. (Not Awakened) The player creates an explosion of sand in front of him, knocking anyone hit by it into the air and dealing a fair amount of damage.
2. (Awakened) The player creates a long-range high-speed sandblast in a straight line in front of them, knocking anyone hit by it into the air and dealing decent damage, while briefly stunning them for a short while. During this process, this move can be used in the air, but will form on the ground.

The X key, called the Sand Coffin, requires 40 mastery and a B+ rating for damage

1. (Unawakened) The player creates a circle of quicksand that pulls the target after stepping on them, propels them into the air and crushes them, dealing a fair amount of damage.
2. (Awakened) The player throws two targetable piles of sand into the air. If it hits an opponent, it sends the enemy higher and higher in the air while trapping them inside and stunning them. Then it will eventually explode and deal good damage to the opponent.

The C key, called Sand Tornado > Sandstorm, requires 80 proficiency and an A rating for damage

1. (Not Awakened) The player creates a small sand tornado in front of them, sucking up players in its radius while stunning them and sending them into the air and back, dealing damage.
2. (Awakened) The player creates a large cone-shaped tornado of sand that slowly moves forward. Anyone caught within the tornado's radius will be stunned and pushed higher while taking continuous damage. This move can be used in the air, unlike its unawakened version.

The V key, called Heavy Sand, requires 120 proficiency and an A+ rating for damage

1. (Not Awakened) The player creates a sandball in his hand and shoots it at his opponent. This attack has a high knockdown and deals a good amount of damage.
2. (Awakened) The player creates a vortex-like sand ball that travels from their hand, hurls it at the opponent, and explodes on contact, causing a large-area shock wave of purple sand and electricity within a large radius and deal heavy damage to anyone in its hitbox.

The F key, called Flying Sand > Flying Tornado, requires 15 mastery and an E rating for damage.

1. (Unawakened) The player turns their feet into sand, allowing them to fly at a slow speed.
2. (Awakened) The player's leg turns into a small tornado, allowing them to fly at a faster speed.
