You have been using a laptop for a long time and your laptop starts to appear strange signs. Read on to learn about 5 signs that your laptop is on the verge of failure

1. All features are slowing down

You will be very annoyed when all operations on your laptop appear delayed. After you click on something on the screen, it can take up to 30 seconds or 1 minute for your computer to respond.

You can handle this by replacing hardware like RAM or SSD. However, that is only a temporary treatment. The main problem is that your computer is too old and out of date.

2. The computer is too hot

Whether it is a phone, laptop, desktop computer or a certain electronic device when operating, it all emits a certain temperature. But if your laptop is too hot for you to accept it, you should immediately think of your laptop is damaged or too old and no longer used to serve you.

3. Sudden shutdown

This is the consequence of the laptop too hot, when you have to force yourself to run the program, your laptop will emit a very large temperature. Reach a certain temperature threshold and your device will automatically turn off. That is a sign that your laptop is exhausted and you should give it a rest.

4. There are many strange cries

Normally, when the laptop is operating, there will be a fan noise. If during use you hear other noises coming from the laptop, such as a loud fan or when the power is turned on, there is a beep sound repeatedly.

Those are all sounds you won't want. Because those are the warning signs to you about the aging of the laptop.

5. The screen is getting dim and dark

Laptop screen is increasingly dull due to over time using too long, causing dense dust or the panel on the screen has been stained, . It is a sign of long-term use and unprotected Proper birth as well as a bad working environment cause laptops to wear out quite quickly.

Thus, if your laptop shows the above signs, you should consider investing in a new laptop.

Good luck.
