

Top best free remote computer control software

The top remote computer control software below is an optimal solution that allows you to access and connect to a remote computer anywhere. With remote access, you can control your computer and share data securely, solving problems without having to be at work.

Remote computer control software is an indispensable computer tool for those who need to use their computer anytime and anywhere. It's convenient when we can control our computer from somewhere with a computer connection. Of course, the control operations are limited to a certain level of instruction or consideration of a problem. some problem on the computer but cannot use it as a tool to play games at home.

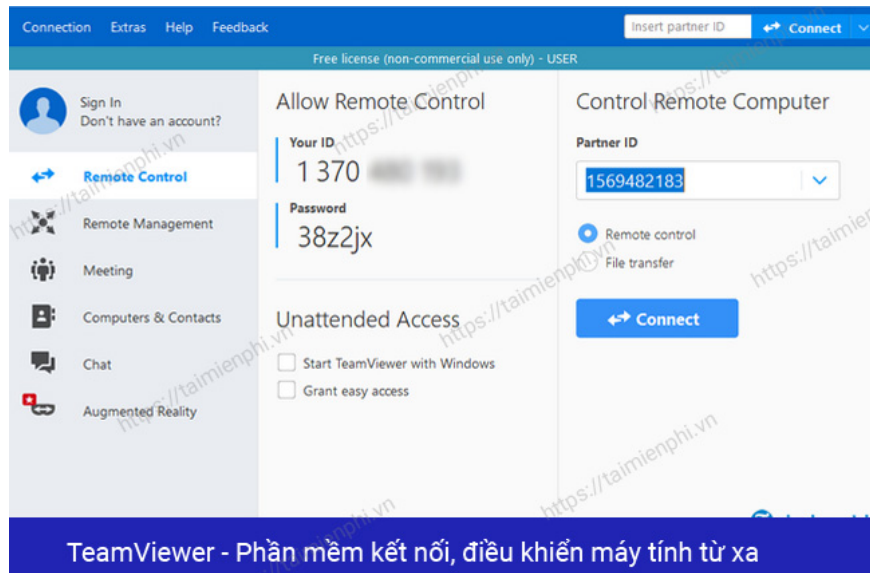

Currently there are many remote computer control software and not all software gives the best results to users and the way of use is also somewhat different. To choose a remote computer control software, this article will be a rich reference source for you before making a decision and choice.

Software list:

1. TeamViewer (Multi-user)
2. UltraViewer (Free)
3. GoToMyPC
4. Chrome Remote Desktop (supported on google chrome)
5. AeroAdmin
6. Radmin
7. Anydesk

Top remote computer control software

1. TeamViewer remote computer control software

=> Teamviewer download link

=> TeamViewer download link for Mac

=> TeamViewer download link for Linux

Teamviewer is currently the number one remote computer control software today, capable of connecting to any system from any location in the world. You can both do professional work and chat and chat with other people. Teamviewer is especially useful and convenient for those working in administration, communication and customer guidance, helping you save time and improve work efficiency.

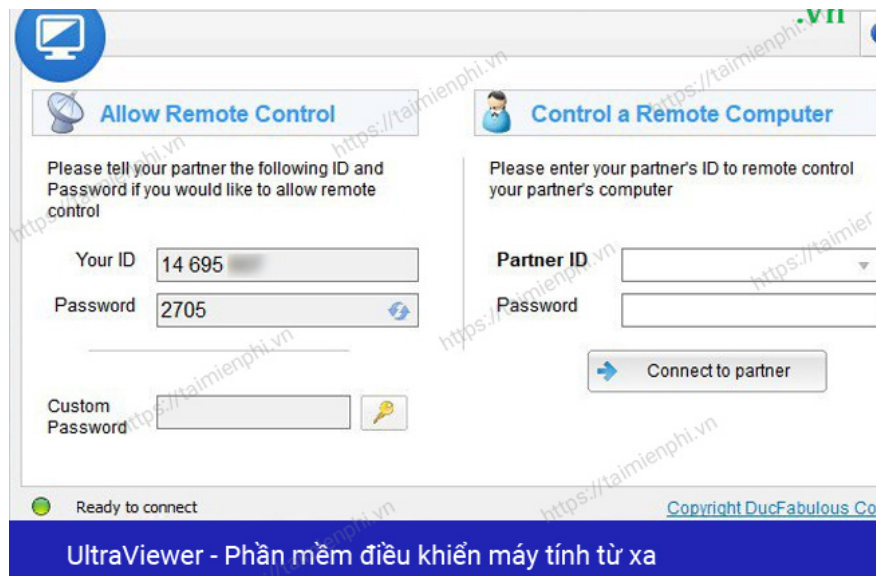

Advantages:

- Using Teamviewer is completely free for individuals, lifetime use and free upgrades.
- How to use Teamviewer easily, with many searchable reference documents.
- Fast connection, few interruptions and many functions even in the free version.
- Modern interface, easy to use and supports Vietnamese.
- There are many connection modes and many password setting modes.
- Available on both computers, iPhone and Android phones.

Disadvantages:

- Sometimes there are still minor errors.
- Still having error after using for 5 minutes and then exiting (due to the user and there is a solution).

2. UltraViewer remote computer access software

=> UltraViewer download link

UltraViewer is remote computer access software, and it is considered one of the best remote computer control software today that can replace any of your control applications. Controlling a computer remotely by phone through UltraViewer is also considered Teamviewer's biggest challenge today and is trying to improve to become even more superior.

Advantages:

- Completely free to use, upgrade freely.
- Basic interface, easy to use for newbies.
- The connection is quite stable and fast, with many different modes.
- Can both control and chat with partners
- Connect to multiple computers at the same time

Disadvantages:

- There are still some minor errors that occur while using UltraViewer.
- Sometimes parameters for connecting to a computer are not displayed.

3. Access GoToMyPC remote computer

=> GoToMyPC download link

GoToMyPC is remote computer access software with which you can easily remotely log in to another computer from a web browser with a high-speed connection, edit and save files. Work on a remote access machine, transferring multiple files from the client computer to the host computer, receiving and deleting emails on the host computer,.

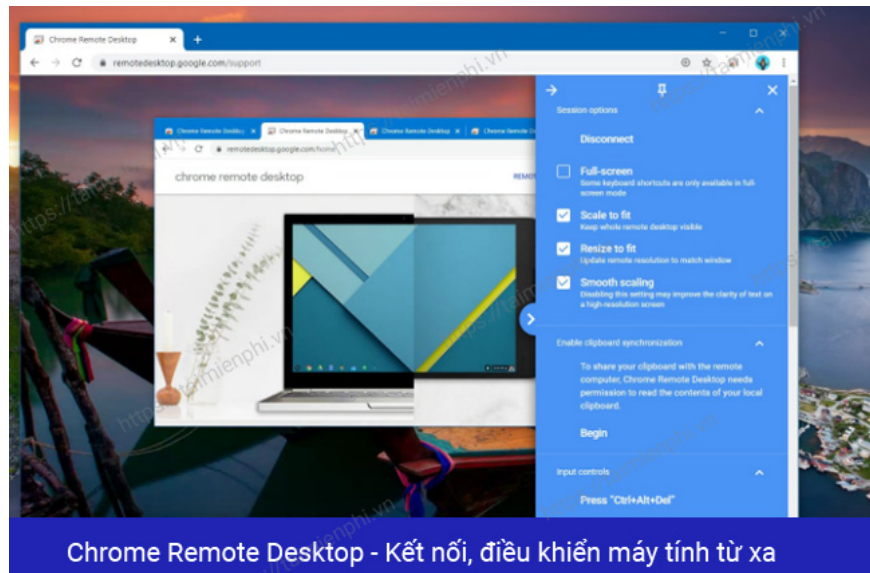

Advantages:

- Remote connection to computer, phone, tablet via application or software.
- There are many secure connection modes, using many advanced encryption algorithms.
- Quick configuration setup and simple computer connection.
- Allows sharing computers with a 3rd computer.

Disadvantages:

- No free version, only trial use with limited features.
- Not popular yet and connection errors sometimes occur.
- The interface is not optimized for users.

4. Remote computer control software on Chrome Remote Desktop browser

=> Link to download Chrome Remote Desktop

Chrome Remote Desktop is remote computer control software on the Chrome browser that allows you to quickly connect and control a remote computer through the browser. Chrome Remote Desktop is a great support for those who work as network administrators and often have to help customers. Users will be provided with a password for each access and can work on both Mac, Linux, and Windows platforms.

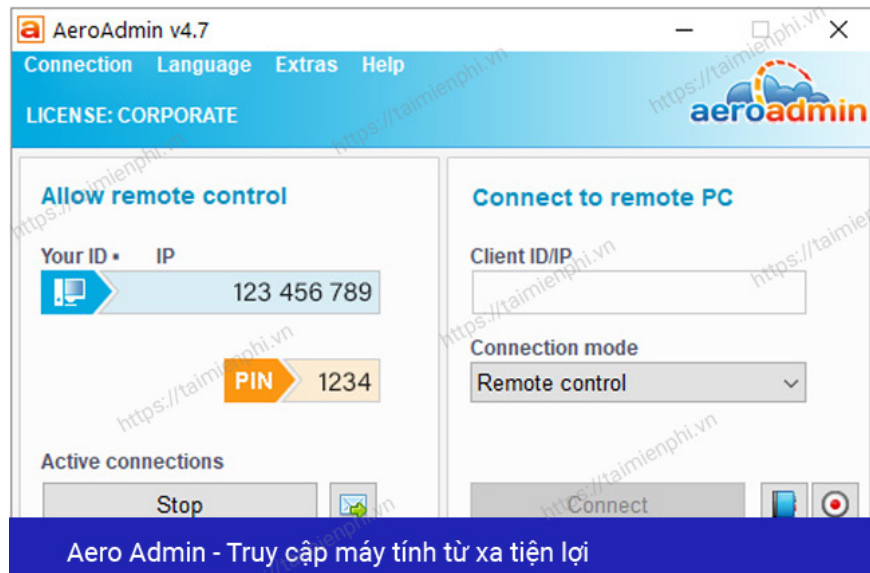

Advantages:

- Install Chrome Remote Desktop and connect quickly.
- High security mode, absolutely safe for users.
- Suitable for both Mac and Linux operating systems.
- Use your Google account to connect and control your computer remotely.

Disadvantages:

- Using extension only works on Google Chrome and Coc Coc.
- There is no software version so that is also a limitation.
- Doesn't have as many features as other software.

5. AeroAdmin remote computer access software

=> AeroAdmin download link

Aero Admin is an effective remote computer control software that performs all operations while sitting directly in front of the system. This software also helps parents control and monitor their children, protect against negative influences from online websites, and can organize remote interactive meetings.

Advantages:

- Simple connection, basic easy-to-use interface.
- Quickly connect to remote online meetings.
- Secure connection with many different security types.
- Uses advanced encryption security technology
- Completely free to use.

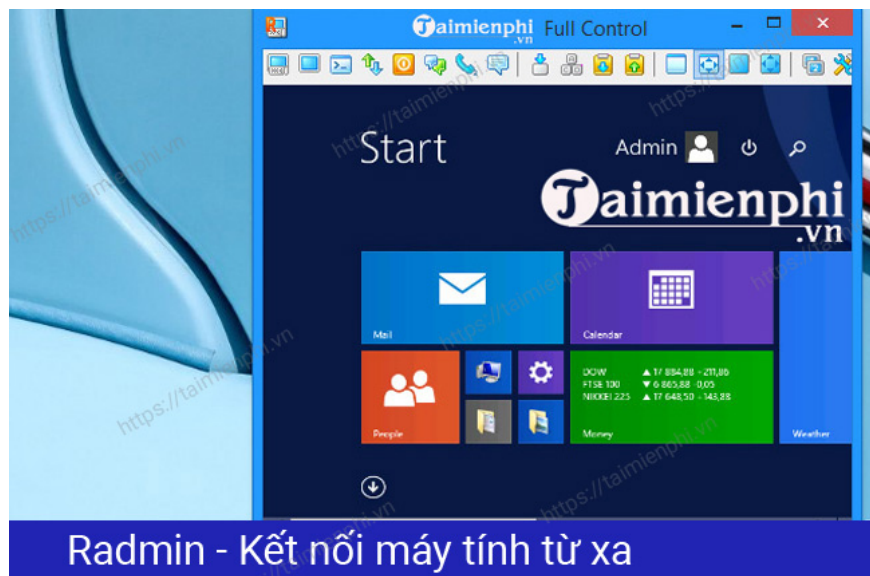

Disadvantages:

- Sometimes the connection is not stable, there are not many options.
- Not many features, basic and simple interface.

Above are the top remote computer control software, with the advantages and disadvantages mentioned in the TipsMake article. We hope you will have a wise choice to find a suitable remote computer control tool for yourself. my body.

6. Radmin remote computer connection software

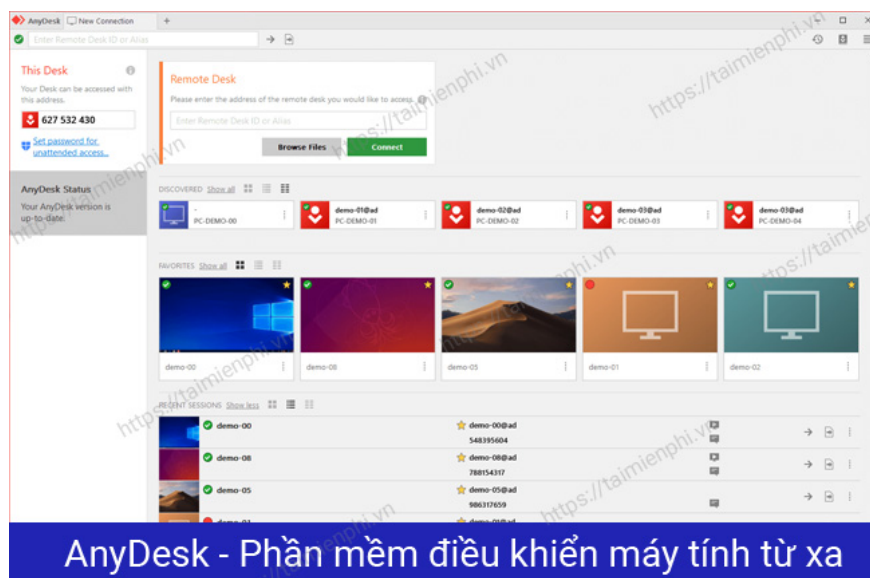

Radmin is a computer control software used by most streamers today, with the use of 2 computers, one to play games and the other to view the device and stream live to social networks Facebook. , Youtube, Radmin are especially used by AOE and PUBG gamers to live stream on Facebook

=> Radmin download link

7. Anydesk remote computer access software

Anydesk is also one of the effective remote computer control tools used by many people, especially office workers who need to access company computers at home. You can use anydesk remote computer control software to access your computer from your phone, tablet.

In addition to the above remote computer control software, if you are interested, you can also refer to a number of remote computer control applications using Android phones and iPhones. These applications will help you solve many problems when you do not have a computer and have to use your phone. Refer to the computer control applications here and choose one of them for yourself.

You finished reading the article "Top best free remote computer control software" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.
