

Toshiba adds machines for L series

The two versions of the L450 and L550 have large screens, configurable options with the goal of small and medium enterprises.

The two versions of the L450 and L550 have large screens, configurable options with the goal of small and medium enterprises.

The 15.6-inch version of the Satellite Pro L450, comes preinstalled with Windows XP Professional 32-bit SP3 and an update package to Windows 7, while the 17.3-inch version L550 comes with Windows 7. Both versions are available. equipped with Intel Core 2 Duo chip, integrated GMA 4500MHD video card, DDR2 to 4 GB RAM, hard drive up to 320 GB, DVD burner, webcam and 802.11 / a / g / n network.

Toshiba Satellite L450 . (Photo: Laptopsing)

Depending on the selected configuration, the two versions will cost between $ 629 and $ 999. Toshiba also said that, besides the two models, the company will soon launch more models Satellite Pro U500 Touch with touch screen.

Toshiba Satellite L555

You finished reading the article "Toshiba adds machines for L series" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.