

Toshiba introduces 5 new laptops

Yesterday (April 23), Toshiba expanded its lineup of new Satellite Pro laptops with a price of $ 699 and above and includes a webcam with a 1.3 megapixel image sensor.

Yesterday (April 23), Toshiba expanded its lineup of new Satellite Pro laptops with a price of $ 699 and above and includes a webcam with a 1.3 megapixel image sensor.

Newly launched models include Satellite Pro L300, L300D, M300, U400 and L350.

Two models of the Satellite Pro L300 and L300D have 15.4-inch display screens. Users can choose Intel Centrino processor or AMD dual-core processor for their computer version. These two models cost about 699 USD.

The M300 laptop has a smaller display screen of the two L300 and L300D models with a size of 14.1 inches. It supports Bluetooth wireless connectivity and has the lowest estimated price of $ 1,049.

The L350 model is the largest display computer in this line of computers with a size of 17 inches and a full keyboard similar to a regular desktop keyboard that gives a user-friendly feel. .

" Listening to customers' opinions and requests, Toshiba offers new choices in its Satellite Pro line of 5 new notebook models, " said Jeff Barney, vice president of digital product marketing. Toshiba said in the US.

You finished reading the article "Toshiba introduces 5 new laptops" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.