Just a day after Lenovo introduced the ThinkPad X201t tablet, the Toshiba M780 touchscreen flip-screen laptop also appeared on its website. This is an upgraded version of M750 with a 12-inch touch screen that can rotate 360 degrees with a control button system and fingerprint identification reader on the side of the screen.

Toshiba's new model owns an Intel Core i7-620M processor clocked at 2.66 GHz, 4GB DDR3 RAM and a 320 GB hard drive (7,200 rpm).

The device is likely to be sold for about $ 1,799 but no information is available about the official launch date.
