

Toshiba's ultra-light laptop launched in Vietnam

The Toshiba Portege T130, when installed with a battery, weighs only 1.76 kg. It looks very thin and beautiful with three colors black, red, white ...

The Toshiba Portege T130, when installed with a battery, weighs only 1.76 kg. It looks very thin and beautiful with three colors black, red, white.

Toshiba Portege T130 is only 1.76 kg light, including battery.

Photo: Gayakuman.

This Toshiba machine has a "not-so-so" configuration like other Portege models, but a better redesign - very thin, light. The manufacturer has equipped for 3 colors: black, red and pearl white, besides being only 1.76 kg including battery and slim shape, the Portege T130 looks very beautiful.

It carries a 13.3-inch LED backlight screen, a regular-sized keyboard with multi-touch mouse - zoom in, zoom out, scroll the page with just two fingers. In addition to the basic equipment, the T130 also has a webcam with SmartFace face detection technology and many extended communication ports such as HDMI, LAN, Bluetooth .

T130 is impressed by the battery life. Due to the use of super energy-saving chips (SU 4100 / SU7300) T130 can run continuously up to 11 hours after each charge.

Moreover, for about 16 million VND, the T130 is also preinstalled with Windows 7 Home Premium. Along with dynamic memory DDR3 RAM should access data and connect very quickly.

You finished reading the article "Toshiba's ultra-light laptop launched in Vietnam" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.